INDEX OF NAMES 635

Reading This Book

The format used in this book is known as the "Modified Register System", a format that has been refined by the National Genealogical Society. The book was created using GEN-BOOK software that extracts the data from a Personal Ancestral File (PAF 3.0M), and then exports it to a Word Perfect 6.1 file for final editing and printing.

In this book, three types of numbers are used. Each person is assigned a personal identification number, a generation number, and a number indicating their birth order within their immediate family. When an individuals are first listed in their own right, their personal identification number is followed by their name in boldface letters. The given name is followed immediately by a superscript number indicating the number of generations from the immigrant ancestor. The surname is given in capital letters. In parentheses following each name are the names of their ancestors who descend from the Wolcott immigrant ancestor. Each ancestor's name is listed, followed by the generation number in superscript. A "spouse" usually indicates a legal husband or wife, but may also be a common law spouse, or significant other. A list of the person's children follows. A plus (+) sign preceding the child's name indicates that more about this child will be presented later in a separate sketch. Their individual identification number is given, followed by "m" or "f", indicating their gender. A small roman numeral following the gender indicator designates birth-order. Each child's name is followed by its birth and death dates.

The index is arranged alphabetically by surname. Under each surname, the given names are alphabetically arranged. The name is followed by the year of birth and death in square brackets. The number to the right indicates the page where this name appears.

Every effort has been made to insure that names are spelled correctly and the dates and places are correct. Often names were found spelled more than one way, reflecting the loose and largely phonetic spelling of early times. The Wolcott surname, for example, has been found spelled 12 different ways. Some of the variant spellings will be found in the notes, while others have been standardized. Early marriages were often recorded in both the bride and grooms home parishes, so it is sometimes difficult to know where the marriage actually took place. Birth dates have sometimes been confused with baptismal dates, and geographical boundaries were often changed. For these and other reasons, it is impossible to have 100% accuracy in any genealogical publication. We hope that the reader will understand when an error is found, and will help us correct any mistakes. Please send corrections or additions to our e-mail address listed below so that changes can be made. As of Februay 2002, the Societies database has containes over 141,000 names.

This book only covers the first six generations of the family in America. In generation 6 for each of the five immigrants, a plus sign (+) in front of the number in front of any child's name indicates that the Society of the Descendants of Henry Wolcott has information about descendants of that person in their database. Information about those descendants may be obtained by contacting the Society by e-mail at: database@wolcottfamily.com.

Introducation

The Wolcott family has lived in America since 1630 when Henry and Elizabeth Wolcott immigrated to the English colonies. During the next thirty years several other Wolcotts also arrived. There are five different Wolcott families known to have immigrated before 1660, but none known to have immigrated in the following century. Thus, nearly all American Wolcotts, Walcotts, and Wilcotts are descendants of these five families.

Information about the family has been preserved since early days. In the back of a ledger dated 1691, there are pages entitled, A Chronologies of the Family of the Wolcotts in New England. The original writer of this Chronologies is unknown, but Gov. Roger Wolcott (1679-1767) and his son, Erastus Wolcott (1722-1793), are said to have made additions to this early work. In 1881, Samuel Wolcott completed the first published genealogy of the Wolcott family, entitled The Wolcott Memorial. His book was written from the information in the 1691 Chronologies, data collected by Frederick Henry Wolcott and George Gibbs, letters and papers of Oliver Wolcott, Sr. and Jr. now deposited in the Connecticut Historical Society, and various vital records and correspondence.

In 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Sereno Wolcott of East Orwell, Ohio, hosted a Wolcott family reunion at their home, with 43 people attending. As a result of this meeting, the Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott was organized in 1906. Its stated purpose was "to preserve records and memorials of the descendants of Henry Wolcott who immigrated to America in 1630, and to promote patriotism and the ideals of the nation's founders." The society has held a national reunion every year since 1906, except in 1942-5 when World War II gas rationing made travel difficult. Membership is open not only to descendants of Henry, but to descendants of other early Wolcott and Walcott immigrants as well. There are currently over 600 active members in the society.

A second book, entitled Wolcott Genealogy, was compiled by Chandler Wolcott and published by the Wolcott Society in 1912. Most of the letters and papers of Governors Oliver and Oliver Wolcott, Jr. that were published in the Samuel Wolcott volume, were dropped, and additional names were added. An appendix with information about other Wolcott and Walcott families was also added. An updated Wolcott Genealogy appeared in 1950, when the Wolcott Society commissioned A. Boehmer Rudd to compile an enlarged genealogy. Again, in 1986, the Wolcott Society published a further enlarged Wolcott Genealogy, compiled by Robert C. Griffin, Registrar of the Wolcott Society, and Mitchell R. Alegre.

In 1996,. Charles V. Waid presented to the Wolcott Society a proposal to develop a computerized database. With the Society's encouragement, he and John Benjamin Wolcott, Registrar of the Society, with the assistance of over 200 members of the Society, developed a greatly enlarged data base, over ten times the size of the 1986 genealogy. The sheer size of this database made it prohibitive to attempt to publish it in book form. Because of this, the Wolcott Society has adopted a new format for its genealogical data. This consists of the present bound volume with information about the first six generations of Wolcotts, Walcotts, and Wilcotts in America. It is intended that this book will be supplemented by individualized computer printouts of known descendants of persons found in this book.

English Origins

THE WOLCOTT IMMIGRANT ANCESTORS

1. HENRY WOLCOTT, 1578-1655, AND ELIZABETH SAUNDERS WOLCOTT, 1584-1655.

The first Wolcott family to immigrate to America was that of Henry and Elizabeth Wolcott, who came from Tolland, Somersetshire, in 1630. A small chest and early family papers, now in the possession of the Connecticut Historical Society, belonged to Henry. One of the documents in this chest was an ancient manuscript, dated April 1618, authorized Robert Mynne to sell to Christopher Wolcott for 220L certain land in the parishes of Tolland and Lydiard St. Lawrence in the county of Somerset. The document was given to Henry Wolcott when he inherited these lands from Christopher, his brother.

Frederick Henry Wolcott, one of Henry's descendants, visited Tolland in 1848. He hired Horatio G. Somerby, a professional researcher into English family history, to find what he could about the family's English roots. In 1849 Mr. Somerby reported that he had found the names of William and Thomas Wolcott on the 1525 subsidy rolls for Tolland. He had also found a record of the marriage of Henry and Elizabeth and baptismal records for their eldest son, John, among the parish records of Lydiard St. Lawrence. Mr. Somerby also located several early Wolcott wills. Copies of these are now among the papers he deposited in the New England Historical and Genealogical Society library.

Henry's baptism in 1578 was recorded at Lydiard St. Lawrence, the town adjoining the hamlet of Tolland. When Henry was 16, his great-uncle, Henry Wolcott of Elworthy, clothier, deeded land to his "nephew", Henry, when he should come of age. In 1594, a grant of land was registered in the manor court of Brompton Ralph, a village 1 mile west of Tolland: "Henry Wullcote, son of John Wullcote, for a piece of bondland 20 ft. long and 10 ft. wide in the tithing of Hollforde lying next to the meadow of Antony Pile, by grant of Henry Wullcote, senior, uncle, to attract after it the rest of the messuage and land of the said Henry, vis. a messuage and furlong of bondland in the said tithing, heriot a cow, price 33s 3d, on condition that he pays 40L as in the will of the said Henry, senior, and that if the said Henry Wullcote, senior, should die before the said Henry Wullcote, junior, is 21 then the said John Wullcote should have the same until he is aged 21. Fine 12s." The elder Henry apparently died in 1596 when it was recorded: "Henry Wullcote, son of John Wullcote, for one messuage and one furlong of bondland in the tithing of Holleforde, formerly of Walter Dollyn, and the said Henry first fined by grant of Henry Wullcote, senior. Fine 27s. John Wullcote licensed to hold the same until his son Henry is 21." Henry of Elworthy did not have a nephew named Henry, so this land must have been given by him to one of his two great-nephews named Henry. One of these was Henry, the immigrant, and the other his second cousin. The latter was born about 1561, and would have been over 30 years old in 1594; certainly not a minor. Therefore the grant must have been to Henry, the immigrant. Henry would have taken possession of this land in 1599 when he came of age.

The parish records of Lydiard St. Lawrence record the marriage of Henry to Elizabeth Saunders on 19 January 1607, and the baptism of their son, John, on 1st October 1607. Elizabeth was the daughter of Thomas Saunders of Lydiard St. Lawrence. She was baptized at Lydiard St. Lawrence on 20 December 1584. The Saunders family lived at Lydiard St. Lawrence since at least 1534, when John Saunders was a churchwarden there. William and Thomas Saunders, probably John's sons, are listed on a Lydiard St. Lawrence muster roll of 1569. Thomas Saunder's will dated 1609, leaves bequests to his wife, Ann; his sons, Thomas, John, Christopher and Robert; his daughters, Agnes and Joan Wrentmore; and leaves to his daughter, Elizabeth Wolcott, 10 shillings and to her son, John, 20 shillings. His sons-in-law, Thomas Wrentmore alias Bond and Henry Wolcott of Ash Priors, were named as overseers of the will. Elizabeth's mother, Anne Blake Saunders, was the sister of Elizabeth Blake, wife of Robert Selleck who then lived in the Gauldon Manor house. They were daughters of John Blake of Over Stowey and first cousins of Humphrey Blake, whose son Robert Blake was a Commonwealth admiral. The court records for the manor of Brompton Ralph record that on 25 September 1608 Henry Wolcott recorded a document in which he gave to Elizabeth, his wife, a jointure of 16L for life from a messuage and one furlong of bondland in the tithing of Holford, commencing within half a year after his death.

Henry Woolcott and Elizabeth were presented at the Diocesan Court on 17 July 1609 for the offense of incontinence. "They weare marryed two yeeres agon and shee was delivered of childe within thirtye weekes after." Henry and Elizabeth are described as residing at Lydiard St. Lawrence. When the hearing was held two weeks later, however, they were living at Ash Priors. They were admonished, and the case was dismissed. Similar hearings took place between 16 May and 19 September 1609, where one Hugh Treable was accused of fathering a child with Elizabeth's sister, Agnes Saunders. One of the witnesses was Elizabeth, wife of Henry Woolcott of Ash Priors, farmer. She gave her age as about 24, and said that she had lived at Ash Priors for about 12 weeks, before that at Lydiard St. Lawrence for one year, and before that at Ash Priors for half a year, and before that at Lydiard St. Lawrence. The Wolcott's appear to have relocated temporarily at Ash Priors to avoid the embarrassment of these events. These scandals must have been upsetting to Henry, for soon after this he was charged with assault upon a Francis Griffin. The jurors presented that "Henry Wolcott, late of Lydiard St. Lawrence, husbandman, on the 7th day of September in the 6th year of the reign of our Lord King James, did with force of arms at Lydiard St. Lawrence, aforesaid, upon a certain Francis Griffin, servant of Ustes Heathly, rector of Lydiard St. Lawrence...made an affray against the said Francis Griffin, swore at him and committed other enormities to the grave damage of the said Francis against the peace of our said Lord King, his crown, and his dignity."

Henry and Elizabeth had six other children, Henry born in 1610, Christopher, George, Anna born in 1620, Mary born in 1622, and Simon, born in 1624. In 1621, Henry Woolcott of Holford and Holford Corsley paid a fee of 40s on property located in the parish of Tolland. This was probably a fine paid for taking over his father's property.

On 20 March 1630, Henry and Elizabeth, with their sons Henry, Christopher and George, departed from Plymouth on the ship, Mary and John. Henry may have been influenced by John Venn, brother of Simon Venn of Lydiard St. Lawrence, who Henry later appointed as overseer of his property at Tolland. John Venn was one of the partners in the Massachusetts Bay Company in 1628 and 1629. John was a Puritan, and was one of the "regicides" that voted for the death sentence of King Charles. He was also the military governor of Windsor Castle during the Commonwealth.

One of the passengers on the Mary and John , Roger Clapp, recorded an account of the trip which shows the Puritan makeup of the group: "There came godly families in that ship. We were of passengers many in number, besides seaman, of good rank. These godly people resolved to live together, and therefore, as they had made choice of those two reverend servants of God, Mr. John Warham and Mr. John Maverick, to be their ministers, so they kept a solemn day of fasting in the New Hospital in Plymouth, in England, spending it in preaching and praying, when that worthy man of God, Mr. John White, of Dorchester in Dorset was present and preached unto us the word of God in the fore part of the day, and in the latter part of the day as the people did solemnly make choice of and call those godly ministers to be their officers, so also the Reverend Mr. Warham and Mr. Maverick did accept thereof and expressed the same. So we came by the good hand of the Lord through the deeps comfortably, having preaching or expounding of the word of God every day, for ten weeks together, by our ministers."

Henry's eldest son, John, remained in England when his family immigrated to America. An enigmatic reference to him in a letter to Henry's son, dated 1631, says: "Your brother John continues in his ould course of livinge." John may possibly have remained at Henry's property in Brompton Ralph. Either he or another John lived at Brompton Ralph from 1634 to 1641. Mary, daughter of John Wolcot, was buried there on 11 July 1634, and John, the son of John and Mary Wolcot was baptized there 31 May 1640. John Wolcot is also listed at Brompton Ralph on the Protestation Returns of 1641. On the 1642 Lay subsidy Henry Woolcott and John Wolcott are both listed, the first taxed at 3s 10d, and the latter at 1s 8d. The first was probably Henry' second cousin, who owned property at Brompton Ralph. The other was probably the before mentioned John. If this John was Henry's son, he may have died in 1641 for Henry, in a deed of 10 March 1642, refers to his second son, Henry, as his oldest son. It is also possible that Henry sold the Brompton Ralph property to finance his move to America.

In 1639, Henry, the immigrant, inherited property in England from his youngest brother, Christopher. Henry's brother John wrote to him: "...soe it is that it hath pleased the Lord to take to his mersie the soull of our deare brother Christopher Wollcott of Wellington who decesed the 25th of March 1639: in the morninge he died untestat and tharby as I understand that his Land faleth unto yourself or your sonne which maketh me to write unto you to know your minde what you will have done in it. I desire your answer as soone as maye be for I am informed that his land falleth unto you and all his prsonall estate falleth unto his wiffe and for my partt I shall have nothinge yeat you knowe deare brother that I have supported him by his breeding and his beinge in Fraunce and by byeing him lande by copie into Tolland Mill living and into John Greenslades living which never cost him a pennie and nowe in requitall of it I shall not have a pennie which greveth the verie harte of me that it should soe fall out for he did promise our father in his death bed that my sonne John Wolcott should be his heare unto Tolland Mill and allso promised it before manie others.... " Dying without a will, Christopher's land belonged to his eldest brother, Henry under the laws of primogeniture.

A deposition taken in 1630 states that Christopher was born at Tolland, was then about 47 years of age, had lived at Wellington for the past 21 years, that is since 1609, and was a mercer, a dealer in textiles. By 1616 Christopher had acquired sufficient capital to purchase freehold for 220L the property that his father held as a tenant. The land is described as "two messuages, one mill, three gardens, three orchards, eight acres of meadow, and seventy-four acres of pasture with appurtenances in Tolland and Lydiard St. Lawrence..." which "John Wolcott the father, John Wolcott the sonne, and the saide Christopher Wolcott or one of them now holdeth by coppie of the Courte Roll," and land which "William Pike nowe holdest by coppie of Courte Roll, and which nowe are or lately weare parecell of the Manor of Gauldon...." These properties were only a small part of the manor of Gauldon, and did not include the house now known as Gauldon Manor, formerly thought to have been the Wolcott home at Tolland. Recently, records have been found showing that the house called "Gauldon Manor" was purchased from Robert Mynne by John Turberville in 1615, and that the Turberville family owned and occupied the property from then until after 1700. The property that Henry inherited from his brother, Christopher, was the nearby farm and mill now called Watersmeet Farm.

An Inquisition Post Mortem was taken at Taunton on 22 April 1641. It states that by an indenture taken 20 October 1619, John Greenslade, in consideration of the marriage of his natural daughter Mary Partridge to Christopher Woollcott, enfeeofed to the couple lands consisting of one messuage, tenement and garden at Wellington, and 11 acres of land, meadow and pasture called Longforth, also at Wellington, to be Mary's during her lifetime, with remainder to Christopher Woollcott, his heirs and assigns, forever, to be held by male descent. Christopher also held in his own right, field land called Brambles Land at Wellington. In addition, he held in capite, from the King, three messuages and tenements and 80 acres of land, meadow, and pasture at Tolland, in the legal tenure of John Woolcott, Sr., John Woolcott, Jr., and Valentine Date for the duration of their lives. Christopher also held one messuage and garden at Wellington in the tenure of George Spiring for his life; a messuage, garden and orchard, with free plowed meadow and pasture at Wellington in tenure of Christopher's wife, Mary, for her life; another messuage and garden at Wellington; and 2 acres of land called Crooke at Wellington. Christopher had signed a deed of entail, which provided that the properties at Wellington were all to be his wife's until her death. The document states that Henry Woollcott, Christopher's brother and heir, was 50 years of age and more. In 1642, Henry deeded the Tolland property to his son, Henry. Two years later, when Christopher's wife, Mary died, Henry obtained Christopher's property at Wellington also.

Henry, the immigrant, was the eldest son of John Wolcott, Jr., who was born about 1550. The parish records of Lydiard St. Lawrence state: "Jo. Wolcot and Agnes Crosse al. Aishe married 9 Feb 1579". Ash may have been Agnes' mother's name or the name of a previous husband. She was probably the granddaughter of Rev. John Crosse, AM, who was the parish priest at Tolland from 1517 to 1554. John Crosse was replaced as rector at Tolland in 1554 when about one fifth of the parish priests in England were replaced by order of Queen Mary, most of them because they were married. A John Crosse of Tolland left a will dated 1544 that was proved at Taunton but later destroyed. The will of Thomas Crosse of Tolland, husbandman, dated 16 July 1583, requests that "his good friend" John Woolcot be one of his overseers. The will of Francis Crosse of Tolland, dated 23 January 1588 also has John Woolcott as overseer, and John and Henry Wolcott as witnesses. These Cross men must have been Agnes' relatives. Agnes died at Tolland on 6 November 1606, and is buried there. Birth dates sometimes given for John and Agnes appear to be spurious.

The court books of Taunton Deane record the name of John Wolcott or Wulcott as miller at Tolland from 1585 until 1603, and show that he was elected tithingman for Tolland for 1585/6. After 1603, the names of Henry Wolcott and John Wolcott alternate as miller until 1636. Apparently Henry helped his father operate the Tolland mill, and Henry's brother, John, operated the mill after Henry immigrated to America.

In 1595, a suit was filed against John Woollcott of Tolland by Peter Goodgrome, who objected to John's administration of the estate of Robert Goodgrome of Nettlecombe. Robert wrote his will in 1592, naming his brother-in-law, John Wollcote, as his executor. Witnesses knew John "to bee a verie honeste man of lif and conversacon and of good name and fame and soe comonlie accepted reported and taken amongst his neighbores." Evidence was given by Richard Wrentmore of Brompton Ralph, yeoman, age 39, who had known John Wolcott for 29 years, and was "of some far kin to John Wollcott." John Hawkins of Nettlecomb testified that Robert's bequests were 40s to his sister Avis Denborowe and 20s to each of her 3 children, 30s to his sister Agnes Cross, 20s to each child of his brother-in-law Thomas Duddridge, and "to my brother-in-law John Woollcott of Toland, his four children 20s each." Robert's wife was apparently a sister of John Wolcott's wife, Agnes.

Eustace Kightlie, rector of Lydiard St. Lawrence, brought suit against John in 1607. Witness, Abraham Graunt of Lydiard St. Lawrence, testified that John had owned three or four acres in Lydiard St. Lawrence for ten years, part of it usually arable, which he, his son, and servants and laborers used "for tiling or healing stones to cover houses withall diverse and sundrie tymes." He had kept two, three, or four horses or mares "to carry his healing or tiling stones to be sold." John Washer of Lydiard St. Lawrence testified that John had had the quarry for 13 years, keeping his horses sometimes at Tolland and sometimes at Brompton Ralph. George Alderman of Tolland estimated that John had held the quarry, called the Clift, for 14 years or more. In 1612, John Woolcott of Tolland made a deposition in support of Robert Selleck of Tolland. John gave his age as about 65 and his occupation as husbandman, and said he had been born at Tolland, had lived at Tolland for about 50 years, and before that at Elworthy since infancy. He testified that Robert had sent for him to see the weighing of his wool and the division of his tithe wool due the parson of Tolland and the parson of Lydiard St. Lawrence, Eustace Kightlie. The said tithe was taken by his son and by Selleck's servant, Thomas Seelie to Mr. Kightlie. His son, John Woollcott, Junior, of Tolland, yeoman, also testified, saying he was age 30 or thereabouts and had lived at Tolland since birth, and that he and Seelie had taken the wool tithe to the church at Lydiard St. Lawrence.

John's will, dated 10 November 1623, and proved 4 January 1624, was witnessed by Henry, and makes bequeaths to his son, John, and John's children, John, Hugh, Agnes, and Mary; to his kinsman, Simon Wolcott, who was then living with him; and left six shillings eight pence to each child of his son, Henry. He named his sons, Henry and Christopher, as executors.

Henry's grandfather was also named John Wolcott. He was probably born at Tolland about 1525 and died about 1572. The dates sometimes given for his birth and death appear to be spurious as there were no vital records kept at Tolland in his time and no other source documents for this. There were apparently two mills at Tolland, a gristmill and a tucking mill. John seems to have run the former and his brother, Thomas, the latter. John's son, John, lived at Elworthy until about 1562, and then at Tolland, so probably the elder John did not take over the Tolland gristmill until about 1562. John's name appears in the will of William Howe of Tolland, dated 1551, as owing William for raw cloth, so he may have then been in the wool processing business like his brother, Thomas. He married Agnes, who died in 1606. Tolland parish records show that Agnes Woollcot, widow, was buried there on 6 November 1606. Agnes' last name is sometimes said to have been Butler, but there is no evidence to support this. The will of John Woolcot of Tolland, miller, dated 1571, leaves bequests to his son, John, and his unmarried daughters, Alice and Mary, and the residue to his wife, Agnes. He asked that his brothers, Henry and Roger, serve as overseers of his will. Henry and Roger Woolcott also witnessed the will.

Henry's great-grandfather, Thomas Wolcott, was probably born about 1500. The dates sometimes given for his birth and death are probably spurious. The name of Thomas Wolcott appears on Tolland tax rolls in 1525, 1535, and 1539. In 1525 William and Thomas Wolcott were taxed on land at Tolland, Somersetshire, valued at 3L each. William is thought to have been Thomas' father. Thomas Wolcott, tucker, also appears on the Tolland tax rolls in 1550, although it is uncertain whether it was this Thomas or his son, Thomas, Jr.. Tucking and fulling were names for the finishing process of cloth making in which newly woven cloth was prepared for sale by soaking and beating, usually by means of a water driven mill. In 1525 John Selleck obtained a lease for life of Gauldon Farm and a fulling mill adjoining it, with successive remainders to his wife Agnes and his sons John and Henry Selleck. Thomas must have either worked for the Sellecks or leased the fulling mill from them. This fulling mill is mentioned as part of the property of Gauldon Manor that Robert Mynne sold to John Turbervile in 1615.

Thomas' name is also found in several wills of the period. The will of Elizabeth Hervye of Tolland, dated 1550, has Thomas Wolkot as a witness. The will of William Howe of Tolland, dated 1551, has Thomas Wolcott, the elder, as a witness. The will of John Seller of Tolland, dated 1553, also has Thomas Wolcott, the elder, as witness.

Thomas had four sons, Thomas, John, Henry, and Roger. The wills of all except Henry have been preserved. The elder Thomas may have been the husband of the Elizabeth Wolcott who died at Lydiard St. Lawrence. An extract of the will of Elizabeth Woolcott of Lawrence Lydiard, widow, is in the Somerby collection. The will is dated 1565 and was proved 26 September 1565. In it Elizabeth asks that she be buried at Tolland, and bequeaths all her property to Thomas Winter, her servant, who she appoints executor of her will. No other names are mentioned in the will.

William Wolcott, who is found at Tolland with Thomas in 1525, was thought by H.G. Somerby to be the same person as a William Wulcote of Dulverton, Somerset, whose will, written in 1500, was proved in 1530. This will left small bequests to William's godchildren and the remainder to his wife, Elizabeth. No children are mentioned. As William is found on the Tolland Subsidy Rolls as late as 1539, it appears that they must have been two different Williams.

A genealogy put together by H. G. Somerby was published in Hollister's "History of Connecticut". It purported to trace the Tolland Wolcott family back to the Walcott family of Shropshire. Samuel Wolcott, author of the first published Wolcott genealogy, called this relationship "conjectural," however. Recent English researchers, Michael Walcott and Robin Bush, have been unable to find any evidence supporting a relationship between the two families, other than the similarity of the names. This descent has appeared in the last three Wolcott Genealogy books and so will not be repeated here. The coat-of-arms of the Shropshire Walcotts has been the emblem of the Wolcott Society for many years, and remains so today,

There are few English records available for genealogical purposes earlier than 1535, when parish baptismal, marriage, and burial records began to appear. Even many of these were destroyed or lost over the ages. Tolland parish records, for example, only go back to 1598, and many of the later years are missing. Some manorial records, tax rolls, deeds, and Chancery proceedings have been preserved, however, and from these we are fortunate to have a few which provide information about early Wolcotts.

In 1524 and 1525, an inventory was taken throughout all of England. It was called "The Great Lay Subsidy". The names of all heads of households were recorded, and the parish in which they lived. The annual value of their land, wages, or goods, whichever was greatest, was recorded, as well as their annual tax. In Somerset, the 1525 list has been preserved. The only Wolcotts known to be on the Somerset rolls were at Tolland. The subsidy list for Tolland reads:

"Willm Wolcot in land, annual value 3 pounds, tax 18 pence
John Stoddon in land, annual value 30 pound, tax 30 shillings
Symon Selake in land, annual value 18 pounds, tax 9 shillings
John Selake in land, annual value 26 pounds, tax 26 shillings
John Crosse, annual value 12 pounds, tax 6 shillings
John Solye, annual value 10 pounds, tax 5 shillings
Symon Walsh, annual value 10 pounds, tax 5 shillings
Thomas Dawyr, annual value 6 pounds, tax 3 shillings
Henr Solye in land, annual value 6 pounds, tax 3 shillings
John Stondfast, annual value 5 pounds, tax 2 shillings 6 pence
Thomas Wolcot in land, annual value 5 pounds, tax 2 shillings 6 pence
Willm Ingram in land, annual value 4 pounds, tax 2 shillings
Willm Copieworth in land, annual value 3 pounds, tax 18 pence
John Toney in land, annual value 3 pounds, tax 18 pence
Symon Soly in land, annual value 10 shillings, tax 11 pence
Willm Howe in land, annual value 3 pounds, tax 18 pence
Thomas Duddorad in goods, annual value 3 pounds, tax 18 pence."

William's was the first name to appear on the list. He was taxed on land valued at only 3L per year. Nearly all of the other names are arranged in order according to wealth. William's name comes first, before that of the wealthiest man in the parish who held land valued at 30L per year. Examining the original list one can clearly see that the last name on it, Thomas Duddorad, has been squeezed in. It may be that the names of Thomas Duddorad, William Wolcot, and perhaps William Howe as well, were added later, and William's name, being the last name added, was put in at the top because there was no more room at the bottom. Thomas Wolcott, whose name is in the middle of the list, had probably been at Tolland for a while, and William may have recently arrived to join him.

In the neighboring county of Devonshire, both the 1524 and 1525 list are preserved. There are 24 different Wolcott heads of family listed, including one William. On the 1524 list, William Wolcott of Bovey Tracy was taxed on 3L in goods. The next year, 1525, all the other 23 names on the Bovey Tracy subsidy roll remain the same, except for William, whose name is no longer there. William either died, moved in with another family member, or moved from Bovey Tracy, sometime between 1524 and 1525. It seems more than coincidental that William Wolcot is found on the 1525 Tolland roll, taxed on 3L in lands, the same amount that William of Bovey Tracy was taxed on in goods. This may have been the same William, having just moved from Bovey Tracy to Tolland.

As there was only one William Wolcott in Devon in 1525, he was probably the William Wolcott who was involved in a Chancery hearing, begun about 1520 by John Dawe of Newton Abbot. Newton Abbot is a town about 7 miles from Bovey Tracy. In this dispute, John Dawe stated that his father, John Dawe, Sr., had held land in Moreton Sampford. When his father died, John claimed the land as his inheritance, but William Wolcott and John Atwell entered upon the land claiming title to it. The Tolland Wolcotts were unquestionably related to the Dawe family. In 1525, a Thomas Dawe was listed on the subsidy roll for Lydiard St. Lawrence, and there was also a Thomas Dawyr, which is probably Dawe, in the adjacent parish of Tolland. The will of John Seller of Tolland, dated 1572, has John Woolcott and John Dawe as witnesses. The will of Thomas Wolcott (Jr.), tucker, of Tolland, dated 1572, mentions John Dawe, his "brother-in-law". The will of John Seller of Tolland, dated 1581, appoints John Wolcotte the elder and Thomas Dawe of Tolland as overseers. It may be coincidental, but it may indicate a family relationship between the Tolland and Devon Dawes and Wolcotts.

The records of Wreyland Manor for 1479-1501 have been preserved and published. Wreyland Manor is in Bovey Tracy parish, across the Wrey River from Lustleigh, in the county of Devon. These records show that a Thomas Wolcott took up tenancy in land in Wreyland Manor in 1480, following the death of the previous owner, Henry Wreyford, Jr. His land was called Lower Wreyford, and was located adjacent to Lustleigh Mill. It derived its name from its location on a ford where people crossed the Wrey River to get to the village of Lustleigh. Thomas Wolcott's name appears quite often in the manorial accounts. He served as reeve, a manor official who represented the manor tenants, in 1482, 1493, and in 1498. Thomas also is named several times in the manor accounts for fines he paid for being involved in quarrels with his neighbors and for brewing beer without paying the fees for doing so.

Thomas is the only Wolcott named in the manorial accounts until 1488, when John Wolcote appears enrolling in frankpledge. This was a legal agreement of mutual responsibility for keeping the peace. All males were required to do it, usually by the time they reached age 15. John must, therefore, have been born about 1474, and was apparently a son of Thomas. In 1496, when he would have been about age 22, John took tenancy in a farm called Middle Wreyford, directly adjacent to his father's land. He was apparently the John Wolcott who later lived at Pulbrook, a farm about a mile from Wreyford, within the parish of Bovey Tracy. In 1524 and 1525, John Wolcott of Pulbrook was the third wealthiest Wolcott in Devon, paying a tax on goods valued at 18L per year. In 1523, John Wolcott of Pulbrook paid a tinning tax at Ashburton, so he was apparently involved in the tin trade in that area. He was probably also the John Wolcot who held land in Newton Abbot in 1547. John of Pulbrook married Margery and had a number of children. Margery was buried at Bovey Tracy in 1549, and John in 1554.

In 1500, William Wolcott also shows up in the Wreyland manorial accounts as entering into frankpledge. He would therefore have been born about 1485, too early to be a son of John. He was more likely John's younger brother, and another son of Thomas. William would have been about age 40 when the Great Lay Subsidy was taken, and could certainly have an adult son by this time. This time frame makes it possible for William to have been the father of Thomas Wolcott of Tolland. The 1485 birth date shows that this was not the William Wolcott who lived at Dulverton and wrote his will in 1500. The fact that Thomas Wolcott was the father of Willian of Bovey Tracy, and William Wolcott of Tolland was the father or brother of Thomas Wolcott, also strengthens the possibility of this relationship.

William Wolcott disappears from the Tolland tax rolls after 1539. The death of a William Wolcott was recorded in the parish records of Bovey Tracy in 1550 as: "William Ulcot de Crowd Subito obit in via Newton", that is, he was living at Upper Crowd and died on the road to Newton. There is a Crowde in the parish of Harberton, 15 miles south of Bovey Tracy. Newton was Newton Abbot, the town 7 miles southeast of Bovey Tracy where the John Dawe lived who brought suit against William Wolcott in 1520, and where John Wolcott held land in 1547.

Only one other Wolcott appears in the existing Wreyland Manor accounts. An entry for 1501, the last year for which these records exist, says "Peter Wolcott with Thomas Wolcott out of the king's assize." This means that Peter Wolcott was living with Thomas Wolcott in Wreyland Manor, but was not registered for frankpledge.

Thomas must have been a close relative, and Peter a youth of 15 or older. The only Peter known to be of that age was the Peter Wolcott who is later found on the 1524-5 Lay Subsidy at Lustleigh, paying a tax on 10L in goods. If this was the same Peter, he must be the person named in the 1620 Visitation of Devon, a registration of those persons in Devonshire approved to use coats-of-arms. Here he is recorded as Peter Wolcott of Lustleigh, son of Richard Wolcott, grandson of John Wolcott of Lustleigh, and great-grandson of Richard Wolcott, the second son of John Wolcott of Chagford. According to the Visitation, John Wolcote of Lustleigh married Maude, widow of William Westcote of Westcote in North Tawton. A Chancery record indicates that this marriage took place about 1470. Maude was probably a second wife, as John's eldest grandson, Peter Wolcott of Lustleigh, must have been born about 1485. It appears that this was the Peter who was living with Thomas Wolcott in 1501. Peter's father, Richard Wolcott, may have died in that year, and Thomas was apparently acting as his guardian. Thomas must have been born about 1455, as he took over Lower Wreyford in 1480, and had sons born in 1474 and 1486. As Peter's guardian, it seems probable that Thomas was a younger brother of Peter's grandfather, John Wolcott of Lustleigh, who was born about 1445.

The Visitation gives a coat-of-arms for the Wolcott family: five martlets on a cross flory. A note on the Visitation document states that John Wolcott of Chagford "for his good services in the wars, had an addition to his arms of a chief or, with a fleur-de-lis between two annulets." Such an addition to a coat of arms was called an "augmentation of honor" and was a distinction usually given by the King, himself. Based on the presence of the fleur-de-lis on the augmentation, we can assume that this award was made for service on the battlefields of France during the Hundred Years' War (1339-1453). It was probably at this time that the Wolcotts began using the arms of "five martlets on a cross flory" given on the 1620 Visitation of Devon. This appears to have been a variation of an early coat-of-arms used by the Shropshire Walcott family, which was "five fleur-de-lis on a cross flory", also given on the Visitation document.

Beyond John of Chagford, the data gets blurry. The Visitation says that he was a son of Walter Wolcott of Thrushelton and a half-brother of another John Wolcott who lived at Wyke in Sourton parish. A deed of 1431 exists, however, showing that John Wolcott of Wyke was actually the son of a Thomas Wolcott of Wyke. It remains unclear, therefore, whether John's father was named Walter or Thomas.

These relationships have not been proven. They are presented here for the reader's consideration, as a possible alternative to the Shropshire connection.

2. JOHN WOLCOTT, 1599-1638, AND WINNIFRED LONGMAN WOLCOTT, c. 1610-c. 1670 .

The second Wolcott to immigrate to America was John Wolcott, a third cousin of Henry Wolcott, the immigrant. John was baptized at Axbridge on 30 May 1599. John married Mary, last name unknown of Glastonbury, Somerset, about 1620. Their daughter, Mary, was baptized at Glaston in 1624. Mary had an older sister, Elizabeth, who must have been born about 1622.

Another of John's daughters, Martha, was born in 1629, and was baptized at Axbridge, where her grandparents lived. Both Martha and her mother, Mary, died shortly thereafter. On 5 March 1634, just before leaving for America, John Wolcot of Glaston, yeoman, deeded to the mayor of Axbridge a house and land in Axbridge, with garden, orchard and common land, which had been held by his father, Edward Wolcot by deed dated 1610. John Woolcott's name is found on the passenger list of the "Recovery" of London that sailed from Weymouth, Dorset, on 31 March 1634, and arrived in America that June. His daughters, Elizabeth and Mary, either came with him or joined him soon after.

John Wolcott is listed as a freeman of Cambridge, Massachusetts, on 4 March 1635. Part of that township where John lived was separated in 1635 to form the township of Watertown.

Shortly after arriving in America, John married Winifred Longman Crawford of Watertown. Winifred Longman was the widow of John Crawford, who she had married in 1629, at London, England. She came with him to America in 1634. John Crawford, his brother, and a servant drowned in the Charles River on 12 August 1634. Winifred and her first husband had two daughters, Martha and Rebecca Crawford.

John died at Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1638. In that year his daughters, Elizabeth and Mary Wolcott, petitioned to have their uncles act as guardians of their property in England. A document, dated November 1638, reads: "Know yee that Elizabeth Wolcott and Mary Wolcott, daughters of John Wolcott heretofore of Glaston in the county of Somerset, yeoman, and late of Watertowne in New England, planter, deceased, and of Mary, sometimes his wife, also deceased...have before me chosen and intreated their uncles Richard Vayle of Glaston aforsd, yeoman, and Christopher Atkins of the same, mercer, to be their guardians jointly and severally for them and in their name to take up occupy and enjoy all those their copihold lands and tenements lying in or near Glaston...until they shall respectively be of full age or married...." A note in the margin reads, "write to Henry Wolcott of Windsor in NE at M. George Searle, mercer, in Tanton, and Edward Woolcott of Axbridge in Somerset, mercer, they to be made guardians." The girls were heirs to land in England entailed to the children of John and his first wife, Mary. John died owing a debt of 388L to Edmund White of London, which he may have borrowed for speculating in land in America. Winifred repaid the debt in 1641 by the sale of the numerous properties at Watertown that John owned at the time of his death.

John of Watertown was a son of Edward Wolcott of Axbridge, Somerset, who was born about 1570. Edward was a second cousin of the Henry Wolcott who immigrated to America in 1630. Edward married Mary Phippen at Axbridge, Somerset, in 1589. Mary died at Axbridge in 1619 and Edward Wolcott of Axbridge, linen draper, and Sarah Hill of Axbridge, widow, had license dated 31 May 1619 to marry at Wells. Edward Wolcott was mayor of Axbridge in 1623, and in the same year was a witness to the will of his brother-in-law, Hugh Norman, husband of his sister, Agnes. In 1629 his occupation was that of mercer. In 1638 Edward Wolcott of Axbridge, possibly John's father, but more likely John's brother, was involved in the settlement of John's estate.

Edward was the son of John Wolcott of Tolland, who was born about 1543, and died in 1589. John's wife is unknown, but she probably died before him, as she is not mentioned in his will. As a clothier he probably purchased wool and farmed it out for spinning and weaving. John is mentioned in several wills. The will of John Seller of Tolland, dated 1572, has John Woolcott and John Dawe as witnesses. The will of William Mychell of Tolland, husbandman, dated 1575, leaves a bequest of 26 shillings to John Wolcott of Tolland, clothier. The will of Thomas Locke of Tolland, dated 1579, also leaves a bequest of 26 shillings to John Wolcott of Tolland, clothier. Finally, the will of John Sealer of Tolland, dated 1581, appoints John Wolcotte the elder and Thomas Dawe of Tolland as overseers. John Dawe was John`s uncle, and Thomas Dawe probably his cousin. He was probably the John Wolcott, yeoman, who witnessed seizin of property at Tolland in 1569, leased by John Warre to the Dawe family. As John and Thomas Dawe are mentioned in the two Seller wills along with John Wolcott, the clothier, and John Seller was a witness to his father, Thomas Wolcott's will, apparently these Dawes and Sellers were relatives of John Wolcott, perhaps by marriage. John Wullcote is named on a list of jurors for Taunton Deane for 1585

John's will, dated 1585, leaves 30L to his son William, 50L each to his sons, John, Edward, Richard, and Nicholas, 66L each to his daughters, Elizabeth and Agnes, and 60L to his son, David, all minors. The residue was bequeathed to his eldest son Henry, who he made his executor. This is the Henry Wolcott whose wife, Joan, and son John, are buried under the large tomb in the Tolland Churchyard. Henry is probably under the adjacent tomb on which the inscription is obliterated. John named as guardians of his minor children his uncle, Henry Wolcott of Elworthy, his brother, Simon Wolcott of Heathfield, and Christopher Nation of Bishops Lydiard, the latter probably his brother-in-law. The will was proved in 1589.

This John was the eldest son of Thomas Wolcott, Jr., who was born about 1520. "Thomas Wolcott, the younger", was a witness to the will of John Toven of Tolland, dated 1551. The will of Alice Howe of Tolland, dated 1565, mentions her godfather, Thomas Woolcott, and also Henry Woolcott, and has Thomas Woolcott and Thomas Venn as overseers. The will of Thomas Wolcott of Tolland, tucker, dated October 1572, and proved in November 1572, leaves to "John Wolcot my sonne the elder xL Itm I geve Symon Woolcot my sonne one yew Shepe I geve unto my ii daughters one yew shepe apece Itm I geve to evrie of my godchildren iiiid The reste of all my goods moveable and unmoveable not geven nor bequeathed I geve and bequeath to Alice my wife whom I make my whole executrix of this my last will and testament And I doe ordaine and appointe John Dawe my brother in law and John Woolcot my son Senior my overseers."

Thomas was the brother of John Wolcott, grandfather of Henry Wolcott, the immigrant. He was thus the son of Thomas Wolcott, mentioned in the above account of the ancestors of Henry Wolcott, the immigrant.

3. WILLIAM WALCOTT, 1620-c. 1660, AND ALICE INGERSOLL WOLCOTT, c.1618-1677.

William Walcott came to America in 1636, probably as a crew member of a ship. He was granted 30 acres of land at Jeffrey's Creek near Salem MA in 1636. He apparently returned to England, however, as he is listed as leaving England for America in July 1638: "William Walcot for Capt. Butler, passenger for Providence Island by the Swallow". This was Capt. Nathaniel Butler, Governor elect of the Providence Island Co., later Rhode Island. Butler apparently paid for William's passage as an indentured servant. It was common to sell these indentures in America, and it seems likely that William's indenture was bought by his father-in-law.

William married Alice Ingersoll. Alice was born at Sandy, Bedfordshire about 1618, the daughter of Richard Ingersoll and Ann Langley. Richard and Ann were married at Sandy in 1616 and immigrated to Salem, Massachusetts with their children, in 1629. Ann Ingersoll was admitted a member of the Salem church in 1635. Richard Ingersoll died in 1644, and his daughter, Alice Walcott, is mentioned in his will of that date, to receive "my house at town with 10 acres upland & meadow after my wifes decease." Richard's widow, Ann, married John Knight in 1647 and moved to Newbury.

William's parentage has not been proven. There is evidence that he was probably the son of John Wolcott of Stokeinteignhead, Devon. The Walcott spelling of William's surname probably came about because he was illiterate. William left Salem about 1644, leaving his wife and children there. There is no evidence that he ever returned. Aspinwall, a Salem attorney, underwrote a debt of William Walcott in 1643. Aspinwall's ledgers also contain the following information: "4/24/1648 Ambrose Butland of Tarmond, mariner, did constitute etc. Nicholas Buland of Tarmond aforesaid in the county of Devon in the Kingdom of England, his true and lawful attorney granting his said Atty. full power etc to aske, leavie, etc. of Wm Woolcot of Stoke neare Teignmouth in Devonshire sometimes mr of the ship called Goodwill & Prosper of London in the full & just summe of ten pounds sterl committed to him of trust by the sd Appearer in fferry land in Newfoundland about 3/4 of year since..." "May 24, 1648: - Valentine Hill granted a tre. of Attr. (power of attorney) to Joseph Grafton (a Salem merchant) to recover & receive the Bills of Tristram Dodge, William Woolcot & William Davies or any other in Newfoundland with absolute power &c." William Davies was a merchant of fish and tobacco in Ferriland Newfoundland. In 1651 William Walcott was a shoals witness in Maine.

If this is the same William, he was the son of John Wolcott, a mariner who lived at Stokeinteignhead, in Devonshire. No other Wolcotts in England are known to have been mariners. The nearby port of Teignmouth was one of the primary ports for the Newfoundland fishing trade. John was born about 1590, and married a woman named Dunes. Dunes Woollcott died 17 Feb. 1649 at Stokeinteignhead. They had children: Mary, baptized 1618 at Plympton Earl, William, baptized 6 Sept. 1620 at Stokeinteignhead; Elizabeth, baptized 1622 at Stokeinteignhead; Joan, baptized 1625 at Stokeinteignhead; Dunes, baptized 1626 at Stokeinteignhead, and John. The will of "John Woolcott" of Stokeinteignhead, mariner, dated 1651, bequeathed property to his children, John, Elizabeth and Joan, but makes no mention of William. In 1661, Elizabeth Woolcott married Thomas Taylor at Stokeinteignhead.

John was probably the son of William Wolcott of Dawlish, a coastal village five miles north of Stokeinteignhead, who was born about 1560. He is probably the William Wolcott who was buried at Bovey Tracy in 1593. William Wolcot married Alice Demon at Coffinswell, a village located a few miles from Stokeinteignhead, in 1588. William was probably also the father of Margery Woolcot, who married Henry Collinge in 1600 at Stokeinteignhead, and Alice Wollacott, who married Thomas Beer in 1606 at Stokeinteignhead.

4. JOHN WOLCOTT OF KENT CO., MARYLAND, c.1630-1669.

John Wolcott was born in England about 1630, and immigrated to Maryland in 1649. A passenger list for the Bristol Records Office for 21 Aug. 1660 reads: "Eliz. Savage, spinster, and Richard Pullin, yeoman, bound to John Woolcot to serve 4 years in Maryland." Another legal document says: "I, John Walcutt, do assign over untó Thomas Bradley or his assigns all my right and title of land due for transportation of myself who came in the year 1649, Richard Pullaine in 1660, John Davis in 1660, Elizabeth Savage in 1660. Witness my hand and seal this 18th September 1663. John Woolcott. In 1667 a patent for land in Kent Co., Maryland, was granted to John Woolcott of Kent County MD, surgeon. Nothing is known about John's parents, or his wife, Sarah.

5. SAMUEL WOLCOTT OF SHREWSBURY, NEW JERSEY, c.1630-1687.

Samuel Wolcott was born in 1630 in England and came to America in 1660 as an indentured servant. Passengers recorded as leaving Bristol, Somerset, England for America, include: "14 Jan. 1660, Samuell Wilcott of Plymouth, Devon, bound to John Templeton, mariner, to serve 4 years." We know nothing of his wife.

Samuel was baptized at Plymouth 24 March 1630. He was the son of Samuel Wolcott who married Charity Bake at Plymouth, Devonshire, in 1627. Samuel Wolcott signed the 1641 Protestation Return at Plymouth. Samuel and Charity Wolcott had three children: Philip, born in 1628, Samuel born 1630, and Hannah born 1632. It is interesting to consider that Samuel was born at Plymouth at the same time that Henry Wolcott of Tolland's ship was getting ready to leave the Plymouth docks for America.

Samuel's father was probably the Samuel, son of Nicholas Wolcott, who was baptized 23 September 1604 at Buckfastleigh, Devon. Nicholas' parents are unknown.

CHAPTER 1

Listing the Descendants of HENRY WOLCOTT

1578 - 1655.

GENERATION NO. 1

1. Hon. Henry[1] WOLCOTT was born 1578 in Tolland, Somerset, England. He was the son of John WOLCOTT, Jr. and Agnes CROSSE. Henry died 30 May 1655 in Windsor, Hartford Co., Connecticut, and was buried in Palisado Cemetery. He married Elizabeth SAUNDERS 19 Jan 1606 in Lydeard St. Lawrence, Somersetshire, England. She was born 1584 in Lydiard St. Lawrence, Somerset, England. She was the daughter of Thomas SAUNDERS and Ann BLAKE. Elizabeth died 7 Jul 1655 in Windsor, Hartford Co., Connecticut, and was buried in Palisado Cemetery.

They had 7 children:

2. m i. John WOLCOTT, christened 1 Oct 1606 in Lydeard St. Lawrence, Somersetshire, England, died in Somersetshire, England.
   JOHN stayed in England. It is possible that he was the John Wolcott, who with his wife, Mary, was living at Brompton Ralph, Somerset, from 1634 to 1641. He was probably dead in 1655 when his father's will refers to John's brother, Henry, as his eldest son.
+ 3. m ii. Hon. Henry WOLCOTT, born 21 Nov 1610, died 12 Jul 1680.
+ 4. m iii. George WOLCOTT, born 1612, died 12 Feb 1662.
5. m iv. Christopher WOLCOTT, born 1615 in Somersetshire, England, died 7 Sep 1662 in Windsor, Hartford Co., Connecticut, and was buried in Palisado Cemetery.
   CHRISTOPHER came to America with his parents in 1630. He never married. He lived in his parents home after their death, and may have lived with them all his life. His estate was divided among his brothers and sisters.
+ 6. f v. Anna WOLCOTT, born about 1620, died about 1701.
+ 7. f vi. Mary WOLCOTT, born about 1622, died 16 Sep 1689.
+ 8. m vii. Simon WOLCOTT, born 11 Sep 1624, died 11 Sep 1687.

ELIZABETH's will bequeathed 10L worth of clothing and household goods to her son George, cloth he had bought for her to her son Simon, and two cows to her grandchildren. The remainder was to be divided between her sons, Christopher and Simon, with the request that Simon be allowed to live in part of her house "for a while".

HENRY arrived in America in 1630 with his wife, Elizabeth, and sons, Henry, George and Christopher, on the ship "Mary & John". They settled at Dorchester, Massachusetts. His name appears on a list of freemen, dated Boston, 19 Oct. 1630. The family moved on to Windsor, Connecticut in 1636. They were joined by their other children, Anna, Mary, and Simon. Henry was chosen Constable at Windsor in 1636, and in 1637 was elected to the first General Assembly in Connecticut. In 1643 he was elected to the six-member House of Magistrates, and was re-elected annually until his death.

In 1639, Henry inherited land in England from his brother, Christopher. He returned to England in 1640 to make arrangements for this property. In England, Henry Wolcott, Thomas Marshfield and Samuel Wakeman chartered two ships to bring people and goods to America. These ships, the "Charles" and the "Hopewell", could together carry 370 passengers. The ships sailed from Bristol on 18 June 1640, with Henry aboard. One of the passengers was Thomas Willard, whose indenture Henry sold to William Pyncham in 1640.

When Henry died in 1655 he bequeathed his home and half his household goods to his wife for life; two pieces of land to his son, Christopher, as well as his home and household effects after the death of his wife; 10L to his son, George; land on the east side of the river to his son, Simon; 5L to his grandson Henry, Jr.; 40s each to the other children of his son, Henry; and the remainder to be divided among his children. HENRY came to America with his parents in 1630. He was admitted a freeman at Boston 1 April 1634, and moved with his parents to Windsor in 1636. He was a farmer and an importing merchant. His apple orchards were among the largest in Connecticut, and he is said to have made 500 hogsheads of cider a year from them. In 1640, his father deeded to him and his male heirs the family lands in England, except the tenement occupied by John Wolcott, effective upon the death of the elder Henry and his wife. Henry, Jr., returned to England in 1654 and 1671, and perhaps at other times, to deal with this property and other business.

Henry was skilled at shorthand, and in his books preserved many items of Windsor history, including lectures and sermons given between 1638 and 1641. His Indian servant, Toto, revealed to him a plot for the destruction of Springfield by the forces of King Phillip, the Indian chieftain, which allowed the inhabitants to protect themselves. Henry was one of the 19 patentees named in the Charter of Connecticut of 1662. He served in the House of Deputies in 1655, 1660, and 1661, and in the House of Magistrates from 1662 until his death. In 1669, the General Assembly granted him 300 acres of land for his services. He served in the Governor's War Council in 1675 and 1676.

At the time of his death, his estate included property in Windsor valued at 1,550 pounds, property in Wethersfield valued at 1,234 pounds, and a house and mill in England from which he received 52 pounds annually. He also had a "servant", Cyrus valued at 30 pounds, possibly a slave, the first known of in Connecticut. Eleven of the 21 Negro slaves buried at South Windsor belonged to Wolcotts. A codicil added to his will 1n 1671 provided that his three tenements in England would go to his son, Henry, and the male heirs of his body forever; but if he died with no male heirs, it was to go to the male heirs of his brothers. A signet ring mentioned in his will was passed down in the family of his daughter, Elizabeth Allyn, and in 1880 was in the possession of her descendant, Elijah Noyes Sill of Cuyahoga, Ohio.

purchased in 1641. George was enrolled as a freeman of Wethersfield in 1657. He was also appointed Constable there in that year. George's will dated 1662, names his brother, Henry, as overseer and leaves to his wife, Elizabeth, his house and land at Wethersfield, and after her death they are to go to his son, George, "on condition that he carry himself orderly and well", otherwise it is to go to his son, John; to his daughter, Elizabeth, 10 pounds more than to his youngest daughter; the remainder to be divided between his children, George, John, Elizabeth and Mercy when they marry or reach the age of 21. MARTHA's grandfather, William Pitkin, was a Member of Parliament for Berkhamstead. He died in 1644, leaving six houses in London to Martha's father, William Pitkin, Jr., who was headmaster of Berkhamstead school. Martha's parents died when she was a small child, and she and her brothers were probably raised by their uncle, Francis Pitkin. Her brother, Roger, remained at Berkhamstead during the rule of Cromwell. He became an army officer after the restoration of the monarchy, living at London. Her brother, William, immigrated to America in 1659 and settled at Hartford, Connecticut. William was a lawyer and was appointed King's Attorney in 1671. Martha came to the colonies from London to visit her brother, William, in 1661. According to tradition, Martha was enthusiastically received in the colony for her culture and grace, and the leading men of the colony sought to find a husband for her in order to keep her in the colony. She married Simon Wolcott. She was buried in the Old South Windsor Churchyard Cemetery where a headstone marked her grave, but her name was later added to her husband's tomb in the Palisado Cemetery in Windsor.

In April 1671, a year after his marriage, Simon sold his land in Windsor to Christopher and George Saunders and moved to Simsbury. He was captain of the Simsbury militia in 1673. Simon was authorized by the General Court to "dispose of liquors" until an "ordinary" could be set up at Simsbury. Simsbury was burned by the Indians and abandoned in 1675, and Simon is said to have buried his valuables there in a large brass kettle that was never recovered.

Simon returned to Windsor, where he settled on 200 acres of land on the eastern side of the Connecticut River, in the present town of South Windsor. In 1686 his property had the highest value on the Windsor tax rolls. He was buried in the Windsor churchyard.

GEORGE inherited his father's homestead at Wethersfield, recorded in 1665. His will, dated 21 February 1725, named his wife Elizabeth and son Joshua as joint executors and gave them the household furniture and his dwelling house and land at Wethersfield. To his son, George, he gave 100 acres of land at Hebron; to his sons, Daniel and Josiah, he gave land at Hebron and a house each. To his daughter, Elizabeth, he left 45L; to his daughter, Deborah, wife of John Taylor, 14L to make up the difference in her marriage portion; to his daughters, Eunice, Anna and Sarah, he left 40L each. Hebron is about 12 miles West of Wethersfield. George's brother-in-law, Samuel Curtis, obtained land there in 1709, and both Samuel and his brother, Richard, lived there. George's estate was valued at 840L.

George's son, Josiah, was given in previous editions of the Wolcott Genealogy as the father of Paul, Silas, and John Wolcott. The birth dates of Paul and John conflict with birth dates of Josiah's other children, and evidence now indicates that they were sons of John Wilcott/Wolcott of Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania, instead. Because there is no evidence indicating who John's parents were, John is placed here next to Josiah for the time being, although they were no known relation.

ROGER said that he never attended school in his life, but was taught at home by his mother. At the age of 12 he was apprenticed to a weaver. On reaching adulthood he educated himself by reading, and was admitted to the Bar. He built a home at South Windsor in 1704.

Roger was chosen a Selectman of Windsor in 1707, a Representative to the Connecticut General Assembly in 1709, and a member of the Bench of Justices in 1710. He was in charge of the commissary supplies in an expedition to Canada in 1711. In 1714 he was appointed to the Governor's Council. In 1720, Roger and seven others purchased from the Colony of Connecticut 10,000 acres of land in Vermont in 1720. In 1721 he was appointed Judge of the County Court and in 1732 Judge of the Superior Court. In 1741 he became Deputy Governor and Chief Justice of the Connecticut Supreme Court. He was presiding judge in a trial at Winham, where Betty Shaw was convicted of infanticide and hung.

Roger was appointed Major General, in command of the Connecticut troops that were part of the expeditions to Cape Breton and the siege of Louisburg in 1745. He was second in command under Sir William Pepperill. In 1750 he was elected Governor of Connecticut, serving until 1754. Roger fell from public favor due to a Spanish merchant's claim for damages when his ship was detained, for which the Assembly blamed the Governor, and so he was defeated for re-election.

Roger was granted the right to operate a ferry boat on the Connecticut River near South Windsor. It is said that he became wealthy through land speculation. In 1720, he and seven others purchased 10,000 acres of land in Vermont from the Colony of Connecticut. They sold this land to settlers. While he was Governor, he was accused of encouraging the Susquehanna Company, a group of Connecticut investors who sold to settlers land in Northern Pennsylvania that Connecticut and Pennsylvania both claimed. Roger's son, Oliver, was a member of this company. It was later determined that neither Connecticut or the Susquehanna Company had no legal right to this land.

He retired from public life, retiring to farming and literary pursuits. He published at least three of his writings, one being "Poetical Meditations, Being the Improvement of Some Vacant Hours", printed in 1725, said to have been the first book of poetry printed in the colonies. The second was an ecclesiastical tract about the history and liberties of the Congregational church, printed in 1761. The third was "A Letter to the Freemen of Connecticut", which appeared in the "Connecticut Gazette" in 1761.

His estate was valued at 1,805L. Among the bequests in his will were a silver tankard and cup left to his sons Erastus and Oliver Wolcott. Erastus bequeathed the tankard to his son, Erastus. They have the arms of the Shropshire family of Walcott engraved on them. Samuel Wolcott, the author of "The Wolcott Memorial", had the tankard in his possession in 1879. His will also left land at Tolland, Connecticut, and a seal, ring, and a gun to his son, Alexander; land at Podunk, a silver sword, gold buttons, and a gun to his son, Josiah; his home at Windsor and a ferry boat to his son, Erastus; land at Litchfield, Hartford, Colebrook, and Windsor and a canister to his son, Oliver; land at Windsor to be divided between his sons, Alexander, Erastus and Oliver; a watch to his son, Alexander; land at Windsor and Podunk to his grandsons, Roger and Epaphras; 130L to his grandson, Parmenio; land at Windsor, Bolton, and Wellinfton to his daughter, Maryanne; 15L to his daughter, Ursula; and the balance to be divided among his children.

His son, Elisha, was to have 60L less than the others because of his "advancement in a trade", and his 2 daughters to receive 100L each. Samuel left an estate of 5,097L. His tombstone has the coat-of-arms of the Walcott family of Shropshire engraved on it.

JOSIAH moved from Andover, Connecticut, to Saybrook, Connecticut, about 1750. After the death of his first wife, he moved to New Jersey. Josiah was formerly said to have been the father of Paul, Silas, John, and David Wolcott of Pennsylvania. Their birth dates conflict with known children of Josaiah, however. The father of these brothers appears to have been John Wolcott/Wilcott of Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania, and not Josiah.

JOHN "WAS NOT" the son of George Wolcott, but is placed here until further evidence is found because three of his sons were formerly said to have been grandsons of George. At present there is no evidence indicating who his parents might be. John Wilcott was the first settler in what is now Potter Township, in Penn's Valley in central Pennsylvania. Geographical considerations suggest that he probably came up the Susquehannah River from southeastern Pennsylvania or the Chesapeake Bay, and so may be related to the New Jersey or Maryland Wolcotts.

Information about John is found in the "History of Centre Co., Pennsylvania", published in 1883. In a legal hearing in 1810, George McCormick testified: "Wilcot was the only settler in Penn's Valley in 1772. He lived where Earlytown now is." Penn's Valley is near Lock Haven, on the West branch of the Susquehanna River. This area was ceded to the British by the Indians in the Treaty of 1768. John Wilcott was one of five men appointed in 1773 to lay out a road from the east end of the "Great Plain" to Sunbury. He was one of 54 men of Bald Eagle and Potter Townships who in 1776 signed a request for arms to defend themselves against the British and the Indians. In 1778, John Wilcott is listed at Bald Eagle, having 2 horses and 4 cows, but owning no land. As he had settled there before the land was legally opened for settlement, he may have been regarded as a "squatter".

In May 1778, Indians slaughtered the family of Jacob Stanford of Potter Township. One of Jacob's daughters was "found dead on the path leading to the home of John Wilcott, their nearest neighbor." The settlers took refuge in the Old Fort, three miles from the Stanford home. A similar story is told by Josie Brown, grandaughter of Silas Wolcott, having been told to her by Silas' wife, Margaret, who lived until 1844. The story was: "One day Silas went out hunting. He had been gone for some time when the postman came in great haste. 'Mrs. Wolcott,' he cried, 'do you know all the neighbors are being killed by the Indians? If you women and children can get on my horse I will try to get you to the fort.' 'I will stay and wait for Silas' said the grandmother. Margaret Wolcott did not say who this old lady was. It was not the mother of Silas for she died in 1760. (She is referring to Lucy French, once thought to have been Silas' mother.) It may have been the mother of Margaret, or just possibly, the step-mother of Silas. At any rate, I understood her to say it was the grandmother of the children. The mother, Margaret, spoke of her as 'the old lady'. Margaret got on the horse with her babe in arms, the other two children in front. They had got about half-way to the fort when the baby began to cry. 'You will have to leave that baby.' said the postman. 'I can take no chances on that.' Margaret would not leave the baby, so got off the horse and walked all the rest of the way to the fort, where she found the other children safe. Back home, the old lady bolted the doors and placed guns at all the windows. She had scarcely done this when she saw the Indians approaching with a white boy they had taken prisoner. She began firing guns, first from one window and then another, to make it appear there were others in the house.... When Grandfather returned home there was no one there but the old lady. His family he found at the fort. All the neighbors had been killed and their houses burned, his being the only house left standing and hs the only family left living. Polly Stanton was up the road, dead-scalped. She had tried to get to their house as she said she would do." It sounds like the same story. The girl is called Polly Stanton in one account and Joseph Stanford's daughter in the other. "The old lady" was probably Silas's mother. Silas was married in October of 1778, so the children could not have been his. The children may have been those of Silas' brother, Paul, whose second child, Sarah, was born in October of 1777.

Because of the Indian problems and the hard winter of 1779-80, most settlers left the area that winter and did not return until 1784. No records were kept during this period. There is no further record of John, but Paul and Silas Wolcott were residents of Bald Eagle in 1784.

THOMAS settled at Tolland, Connecticut, about 1720-24. He fenced and improved part of the 400 acres adjoining the Tolland-Coventry town lines his father had obtained in 1719. His father left him the use of the land he had improved, for life, with the land then to be divided among Thomas' children.

In 1729, Thomas sold to his uncle, Henry Allyn his 1/3 part interest in lands left by his grandfather, Thomas Allyn. In 1739 he sold land at Tolland, the last time he appears at Tolland. He moved to Ancoram, Dutchess Co., New York, probably shortly before 1742, and in 1743, obtained a 999 year lease on 100 acres of land at Salisbury, Connecticut, near the New York border. In 1748 Thomas of "the county of Pekipsey" sold an interest in land at Windsor that his mother had inherited from John Allyn.

Thomas leased land in "The Oblong" about this time from Cadwalader Colden. The Oblong was a strip of land along the Connecticut-New York border and was an area of disputed ownership. In Aug. 1749, Thomas and his family having been there a year, he, his son, and two others, were were putting up a log house on the land when John Sackett came with an ax and began to cut the timber of the house, claiming the land was his. A scuffle ensued. Thomas was taken into custody the next day and required to appear in court. Two nights later, his fence and a stack of his wheat were knocked down and Sackett's cattle were let into his fields. The matter was still unresolved that December, but either Thomas was eventually successful, or he purchased other land in Dover Township. In 1754 Thomas of Dover, New York, sold land at Windsor that had belonged to Thomas Allyn, Sr., and in that year his eldest son married John Sackett's daughter.

Oliver moved to Litchfield about 1750. From 1751 to 1771 he was Sheriff of Litchfield County. In 1753 he built a large house at Litchfield, on land given him by his father. This home is one of the oldest at Litchfield, and was lately occupied by his descendant, Mrs. Alice Wolcott Sherman. Washington visited the home in 1780. Oliver was elected a Representative to the Connecticut General Assembly in 1764 and served until 1770. He was an Assistant to the Governor from 1771 to 1786. He was also a Judge of Probate from 1772 to 1795, and chief Judge of the Court of Common Pleas from 1774 to 1786. He rose through the ranks of the Connecticut militia, from Captain to Major-General. In 1775, he was appointed one of the Commissioners of Indian Affairs, charged with inducing the Indians to remain neutral during the struggle with Great Britain.

He was appointed as a representative of Connecticut to the Continental Congress in 1776, taking his seat there in January, 1776. Becoming ill in June, during the discussion of the Declaration of Independence, he returned to Connecticut. He led fourteen units of the Connecticut militia to the defense of New York. On 9 July, 1776, a group of patriots tore down the lead statue of George III on Bowling Green in New York City. Oliver had it taken by cart to his at Litchfield where his family and neighbors melted the lead in the Wolcott's back yard, molding 42,000 bullets for Washington's army. He returned to Philadelphia where he signed his name to the Declaration of Independence on 4 September 1776.

Oliver spent the summer of 1777 recruiting troops from Connecticut, and with the rank of Major General, he commanded the Connecticut militia at the Battle of Saratoga, where British General Burgoyne was defeated. He rejoined the Continental Congress at York, Pennsylvania, and went with it when it moved to Baltimore in the winter of 1777-8. In 1779 he commanded a division of militia defending the Connecticut coast. He served with the militia until 1780, and, except for 1799, he represented Connecticut in the Continental Congress until 1784. In 1784 and 1785 he was again one of the Commissioners for Indian Affairs charged with establishing terms of peace with the Iroquois. He helped negotiate the "Purchase of 1784", which legally cleared all Indians from the land northwest of the Allegheny River.

Oliver, and his sons, Oliver and Frederick, were given land grants at Elmore, New Hampshire, for his service in the wars. He was also given land near Wolcott, New Hampshire, named for him because of his support for making New Hampshire a state. He was associated with the Susquehanna Company, a group of Connecticut investors who sold land in the Wyoming Valley to settlers. This land was claimed by both Connecticut and Pennsylvania. At a meeting of the Susquehanna Company in 1785, he is said to have presented a draft of a constitution for a new state in that area, to be called "Westmoreland". He was involved in negotiations for resolving the "Wyoming Controversy". The resuts of this negotiation was that the Wyoming Valley belonged to Pennsylvania. He was also involved in negotiating a land dispute between Vermont and New York. Oliver was a slave owner. In 1786 he freed a slave named Caesar, giving him the surname, Jamus. In 1790, he owned 6 slaves.

From 1786 to 1796 Oliver was Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut. He was an ardent Federalist. He was granted an honorary LLD degree by Yale University. In 1796 he was a Presidential Elector and voted for John Adams. Upon the death of Governor Huntington, he became Governor of Connecticut, holding office until he died the following year.

Oliver was described as tall, erect, and dignified, with a dark complexion. Two portraits of him, painted by Ralph Earle, have survived. One was presented to the State Senate of Connecticut by his grandson, Dr. John Stoughton Wolcott. It is now in the Connecticut State Library. The other is owned by the Connecticut Historical Society. Oliver's letters and papers are deposited with the Connecticut Historical Society.

PAUL was formerly thought to be the son of Josiah Wolcott and Lucy French, but his birth date and that of his brother, John, conflict with those of Josiah's known children. Paul's name is found spelled Wilcott or Willcott until 1814. Paul served in the Cumberland Co., Pennsylvania, militia during the Revolutionary War. He married at the Goshen, Pennsylvania, Quaker Meeting House about 1776, and remained at Goshen until 1778. Paul Wilcott appears on the tax roll at Bald Eagle in 1784 and 1786, apparently on the property formerly occupied by John Wilcott.

Paul's mother-in-law, Elizabeth Ashbridge, paid taxes at Bald Eagle in 1785, and in Lycoming County in 1786 and 1787. Shortly after 1786, Paul and the Ashbridge family moved to York, now Toronto, Canada. In 1796, Paul Wilcott received a patent for 38 acres of land at York. He obtained another patent on 200 acres of land, which he purchased in 1801. His name, with wife and seven children, appears on a census of York of 1805. In 1813, Paul enlisted in a unit of Canadian volunteers to serve the United States' cause in the War of 1812. A muster roll of 1813 reports that he had been wounded in the side by a cannon shot.

Paul remained in the United States, and in 1820 gave a deposition at Waynesville, Ohio, in support of the pension request of his brother, Silas. His birth date and the birth dates of his children, most of whom were formerly thought to have been children of his brother, John, are found in a letter written by his grandson, Silas J. Wolcott, in 1863.

327. Silas[5] WOLCOTT (John[4], George, Jr.[3], George[2], Henry[1]) was born 4 Aug 1755 in New Hampshire. Silas died 4 Jun 1834 in Litchfield Township, Bradford Co., Pennsylvania, and was buried in Park Cemetery, Litchfield Township, Pennsylvania. He married Margaret ROWAN 2 Oct 1778 in Lancaster, Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania. She was born 20 Oct 1756 in Lancaster, Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania. Margaret died 20 Dec 1844 in Litchfield Township, Bradford Co., Pennsylvania, and was buried in Park Cemetery, Litchfield Township, Pennsylvania.

They had 10 children:

+ 1190.	f	i.	Mary "Molly" WOLCOTT, born 16 Oct 1779, died 16 Jun 1869.
+ 1191.	m	ii.	Elijah WOLCOTT, born 29 Mar 1781, died 30 Jan 1840.

+ 1196.	m	vii.	Silas B. WOLCOTT, born 17 Aug 1793, died 17 Jan 1840.
+ 1197.	m	viii.	Benjamin WOLCOTT, born 1799, died 4 Apr 1878.
+ 1198.	f	ix.	Margaret "Peggy" WOLCOTT, born 1798, died 29 Apr 1890.
1199.	f	x.	Minerva WOLCOTT, born in New York. She married William REED. MINERVA and her husband moved to Michigan.

MARGARET lived with her son, Benjamin, after her husband's death. Letters of administration for the estate of Margaret Wolcott, were granted to Benjamin, 3 September 1845.

SILAS was formerly thought to be the son of Josiah Wolcott and Lucy French, but was apparently the son of John Wilcott, of Penns Valley, then in North Cumberland Co., Pennsylvania. Silas's wife's pension application says he was born in New Hampshire, raised in Chester Co. Pennsylvania, and enlisted for military service in North Cumberland Co. His great-granddaughter and the family historian, Etta Wolcott Park, said he "grew up in New Jersey and Easton, Pa." Heverly's "Pioneer & Patriotic Families of Bradford County" says "He grew up in New Jersey, and drifted into Eastern Pennsylvania." Silas served from 1 April 1776 to 1 January 1778 as a rifleman in Capt. Caspar Weitzel's Company, Col. Samuel Mile's Regiment, 13th Pennsylvania Line. The regiment moved to Philadelphia on 2 July 1776, and after the Declaration of Independence was signed, marched to Trenton and then to Perth Amboy. On 12 August they fought to defend Long Island, but were forced to retreat. Silas took part in the Battle of Harlem Heights, the defense of Fort Washington, and the retreat across the State of New Jersey. He was in the Battle of New Brunswick on 27 November, and the Battle of Trenton on Christmas Day, followed by the Battle of Princeton. Silas was in Capt. John Robb's Company, Col. Steward's Regiment, at the Battles of Brandywine and Germantown in the fall of 1777. They moved to Valley Forge, where, family tradition holds, Silas was a bodyguard for General George Washington. Silas was mustered out at Valley Forge on 1 January 1778.

After the war Silas returned to Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania. He is listed on the tax rolls there from 1784 to 1787. A land warrant was issued in his name in 1784, for 400 acres of land in nearby Bedford Co., Pennsylvania. He apparently claimed this or equivalent land, for he is listed on a tax roll of Huntingdon Co., Pennsylvania, dated 1788 as paying tax on 395 acres as a non-resident. Huntingdon Co. was partially formed from Bedford Co.

He chose not to settle this land, apparently because of problems with the Indians. In his pension application, he tells how, because of Indians having killed several of his neighbors, he decided to leave his home in Pennsylvania and take his family elsewhere. While pushing a canoe up river, he lost his back pack, with purse, money, and discharge papers. He moved up the North Branch of the Susquehannah River to what is now Havana, New York. In 1788 he and a man named Wilson were the first settlers in Catherine Creek Valley near Montour Falls. He built a log house on Ellis Creek, which was also used as an inn. He then moved his family to Ithaca. Although this move to Ithaca is sometimes said to be due to Indian raids, there were no Indians in that area after it was cleared by Sullivan in 1779, so the Indian problems were probably those in Pennsylvania. In 1791, the land in Catherine Creek Valley was raffled off to military veterans and the earlier settlers had to pay for the land or leave. Silas chose to leave.

Silas is said to have had a farm and mill near Ithaca, and then moved to Litchfield Township in Bradford Co., Pennsylvania. His widow said in 1839 that she had lived in Bradford County, Pennsylvania, for 48 years. His son, Benjamin, is said to have been born in Pennsylvania in 1799, and his son, Elijah, was married at Litchfield in 1802. Silas settled in Litchfield on Satterlee Creek and contracted to stock and operate the mill there. After a year or two he moved to a farm formerly occupied by Mr. Post, where he built a log cabin that stood for over a century. The cabin was said to have been built in 1806. He is described by his family as "more of a woodsman than a farmer".

Silas and his sons, Elijah and John, paid taxes in Bradford Co. in 1812. Silas was living there when he applied for a pension in 1818, describing himself as a laborer, age 65, and unable to work. In 1820, his brother, Paul, gave an affadavit in support of his pension. James LeRay de Chaumont claimed that he had sold Silas the land on which Silas resided, and had never been paid for it. He requested that Silas' pension not be paid until the deed to this land was returned. Silas' widow was living at Bradford with her son, Benjamin, when she applied for a widow's pension in 1839.

329. John[5] WOLCOTT (John[4], George, Jr.[3], George[2], Henry[1]) was born 1 Jul 1759. John died 1824 in Pike Co., Ohio. He married (1) Sarah "Sally" 1790 in Pine Creek, Pennsyulvania. She was born about 1774. Sarah died 1824 in Ohio.

They had 8 children:

1200. f i. Jemima WOLCOTT, born about 1790. She married Jabez GRANT. He was born about 1789.

This is probably the David Grant who came to Ohio from Perry Co., Pennsylvania, with John Wolcott in 1823.

1201. f ii. Elizabeth WOLCOTT, born about 1791. She married Samuel SELLS 22 Apr 1807 in Franklin Co., Ohio.

1202. f iii. Christina WOLCOTT, born about 1792. She married Enos DEWALT 5 Feb 1810 in Franklin Co., Ohio.

1203. f iv. Lydia WOLCOTT, born about 1794. She married Mr. THOMAS.

+ 1204. m v. John WOLCOTT, born about 1796, died May 1848.

1205. f vi. Sarah "Sally" WOLCOTT, born about 1798. She married Mr. WILLIAMS.

1206. m vii. Peter WOLCOTT, born about 1799.

1207. f viii. Lydia WOLCOTT, born about 1801. She married Mr. THOMAS.

SARAH has not been proved to be the wife of John, but available information makes it seem likely. Pine Creek, where Sarah and John are said to have married, is a tributary of the West Branch of the Susquehanna River, which begins near Penn's Valley and goes North into Tioga and Potter Counties. Family tradition is that the family went from Perry Co., Pennsylvania, to Ohio by wagon train. Perry Co. is in Central Pennsylvania, on the West bank of the Susquehanna River.

In 1813, Sarah Woolcott is found in Franklin County, Ohio, as the administrator of the estate of William Johnson of Franklin County, possibly her father or brother. Sally Wolcott deeded property in Columbus, Franklin Co., Ohio, to John Kerr in 1820 and 1822. Her name appears on the 1820 Sandusky Co. census with two males with dates that appropriate for the ages of her sons, John and Peter. In 1826, Sally is found on a tax roll for Ballville, a village just outside Sandusky, Ohio, which was once part of Franklin County. The will of Sally Wolcott of Sandusky Co., Ohio, proved 5 July 1824, leaves bequests to her children, Jemima Grant, Elizabeth Sells, Christina DeVault, John, Sally Williams, Peter, and Lydia Thomas. Most of these daughters were married in Franklin County.

John married (2) Unknown about 1802. She was born 1780.

They had 9 children:

1208. f ix. Katy "Kitty" WOLCOTT, born 1803.

1209. f x. Lucina WOLCOTT, born 1804. She married John W. THORNTON 12 Aug 1832 in Warren Co., Ohio.

1210. f xi. Hannah WOLCOTT, born 1806 Hannah died 1891 in Boone Co., Nebraska.

+ 1212. f xiii. Hester "Hattie" WOLCOTT, born Oct 1810, died 13 Nov 1898.

1213. f xiv. Christine WOLCOTT, born 1812.

1214. f xv. Fanny WOLCOTT, born 1814.

1215. f xvi. Lucinda WOLCOTT, born 1817.

1216. f xvii. Eliza WOLCOTT, born after 1820. She married _____ PRATT.

JOHN, formerly thought to be a son of Josiah Wolcott, now appears to be a son of John Wilcott of Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania. John enlisted on 7 December 1778 at Sunbury, Pennsylvania, as a Private in Capt. McClellans Co., 1st Regt. Pennsylvania Line, to serve until 1781. He was captured by the British near Montgomery, Pennsylvania, on 29 June 1779, during the Battle of Fort Muncy. Fifty-two American prisoners were taken. The old men and women were released and returned to Fort Augusta at Sunbury. After six months in captivity, John was exchanged by the British and rejoined the American army. He was discharged in the fall of 1780. He and his brother, David, were subject to military duty in Huntingdon Co., Pennsylvania, in 1786.

John is said to have married his first wife, Sarah, in Pennsylvania in 1790. Most of the children once thought to be from this marriage have been shown to be those of his brother, Paul. John and Sarah apparently seperated about 1801. He remarried soon after, and moved to Kentucky. In his 1818 request for a military pension, made in Bourbon Co., Kentucky, he stated he suffered three wounds during the Revolutionary war: one ball through his right leg, one ball through his left thigh, and one ball which broke his left wrist. He received this pension in Bath County, Kentucky in 1820. He moved from Kentucky to Green Co., Ohio, in 1822, and to Montgomery Co., Ohio, the following year. His last pension check was received at Pike Co., Ohio, in 1824. John may have spent his last days with his younger brother, David, who lived in Pike County.

330. David[5] WILCOTT (John[4], George, Jr.[3], George[2], Henry[1]) was born 1762 in Pennsylvania. He married Elizabeth.

They had 3 children:

1217. m i. David WILCOTT, Jr., born about 1796 in Pennsylvania.
DAVID was living at Pee Wee, Pike Co., Ohio, in 1820.

1218. m ii. Silas WILCOTT, born about 1799 in Pennsylvania.
SILAS was living at Pee Wee, Pike Co., Ohio, in 1820.

1219. f iii. Elizabeth WILCOTT, born about 1808 in Pennsylvania. She married Andrew WYNCOOP 19 Nov 1829 in Pennsylvania.

DAVID is on the tax rolls at Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania, in 1784, his name appearing next to that of Silas Wilcott. He and his brother, John, were subject to military duty in Huntindon Co., Pennsylvania, in 1786, and David was again on the Bald Eagle tax rolls in 1789. He later settled in Pike Co., Ohio.

They had 10 children:

+ 1220. m i. Jonathan WILCOTT, born about 1795.
1221. m ii. Belden WILCOTT, born about 1797.

1229. f x. Catherine WILCOTT, born about 1820. She married Samuel BRAGG 24 Oct 1850 in Belleville, St. Clair Co., Illinois.

BARNABAS has not been proven a son of John Wilcott of Bald Eagle, Pennsylvania, but John's family is the only one known to be living in Pennsylvania when Barnabas was born. The 1850 census gives Barnabas' birthplace as Pennsylvania. There is a biblical connection between the names of Paul, Silas, and Barnabas. Silas and Barnabas were spoken of in the Bible as disciples of the apostle, Paul. Barnabas lived in Rowan Co., North Carolina, in 1790, and in Adair County, Kentucky, in 1810. He is found on the Franklin County, Tennessee, census in 1830, and the Perry County, Illinois, census in 1840 and 1850.

The younger Catherine is more likely to have been Wilhelmus' wife. Catherine is said to have been a Dutch-speaking woman from the Mohawk Valley.

She reportedly found it difficult to cook any way but in a Dutch oven. Family tradition tells of Catherine roasting an ox to celebrate America's independence in 1775. Lawrence's son, John, said he often heard his grandmother speak Dutch, and remembered often hearing them speak of Cherry Valley. The Dutchers were Dutch, having changed their name from Duytser.

He graduated from Yale College in 1778, at the age of 18, and served as an military aide to his father in 1779. He studied law at Litchfield, and was admitted to the bar in 1781.

Oliver began practicing law in Hartford, and became a clerk in the state Treasury office, and was a member of the pay-table committee from 1782 to 1788, Connecticut State Comptroller of Public Accounts 1788-9, State Auditor 1789-91, Comptroller of the U.S. Treasury 1791-5, and U.S. Secretary of the Treasury 1795-1800, succeeding Alexander Hamilton in the Cabinets of Presidents Washington and Adams. He resigned due to slander from his Republican opponents, being accused of starting a fire in the Treasury office to conceal peculations.

Oliver was appointed by President Adams as a Judge of the Circuit Court in 1801, and served until 1802. He then established a mercantile business in New York City, where he was President of the Merchants' Bank of the City of New York from 1803 to 1804. All but one of these were killed by disease, so Oliver and his brother planted elm trees to replace them. After retiring from public service, Oliver lived with his son, John, in New York City. His will left "to my beloved and only surviving son, Doctor John Stoughton Wolcott, who resides with me and is the protector of my declining years," all his books and papers and household effects and his home and property at Litchfield; $100 to his son-in-law William Gracie; and the remainder to be divided between his children, John and Laura. He requested that John provide for the support and education of his grandson, Oliver WolcottIV. In 1844 his sole surviving heirs were Mrs. Laura Gibbs of New York City, and a grandson, Oliver Wolcott of Litchfield, Connecticut.

JOSIAH was a farmer at Rocky Hill, Connecticut, He and his brother, Theodore, enlisted at Wethersfield in Capt. John Hammer's Company, Connecticut Line. They were in the Battle of Long Island, New York in August, 1776. He reenlisted in Capt. Oliver Pomeroy's company and then served as a Sergeant in Capt. Benjamin Wrights's Company. His pension application was filed 21 April 1837 at Farmington, Ohio.

Josiah moved to Bristol, Connecticut, in 1792. He purchased 1,000 acres of land in Trumbull Co., Ohio, in 1806. In 1807 he, his son, Horace, and his brother, Theodore, went to Henshaw, later Farmington Township, Ohio, where Theodore's son, Lewis, had already started clearing land. They built a 15 feet square log cabin and spent the winter there. The building was finished and floored without the use of a single sawed piece of wood. The surrounding forest was so thick that they had to bring straw for their beds from Mesopotamia.

Josiah and Theodore then returned to Connecticut for their families. Josiah's horse died in Pennsylvania and he had to continue on foot. He then sold his property in Connecticut, and brought his family and his step-children, Nancy, Silas, and Paul Higgins, to Ohio. In "Journey to Ohio in 1810", by Margaret Van Horn Dwight, published by Nebraska Press in 1991, Margaret writes of her journey to Warren, Ohio with Deacon and Mrs. Wolcott and their children Susan and Eras. About 1816, Josiah built a sawmill and gristmill on the Grand River, which was rebuilt and enlarged 3 years later. In 1816 he cut the logs for a schoolhouse, which were hauled by oxen driven by his son, Erastus. Josiah was appointed a deacon of the Congregational Church at Farmington in 1817, as was his brother, Theodore. He applied for a military pension in 1837 at Farmington. His widow applied for a widow's pension in 1853 at Chardon, Geaugua Co., Ohio, and for a land warrant in 1855 at Trumbull Co., Ohio.

SARAH was a descendant of Thomas Rogers who came to America on the Mayflower.

OLIVER, at age 15, was a soldier in the army of the Revolution. He was in the disastrous battle of Flatbush, and as one of Knownlton's Connecticut Rangers, was constantly on the neutral ground between the two armies. He helped defended Fort Washington, the last foothold of the Americans on Long Island, and was one of the 2,000 prisoners who there surrendered to the British in 1776. For ten days they were confind in the Old Dutch Church, then transferred to the "Dalton", a large East India ship, where they died in great numbers. He escaped through the connivance of the British officers because of his extreme youth, as he believed. He again joined his company and served through two campaigns, in the last of which he received a wound, and at the age of 18 retired from the army. For forty years he was a magistrate of the town of Cornwall, a judge of the County Court, and for more than thirty sessions a member of the Connecticut Legislature House or Senate.

Abner married (2) Mrs. Dorothy REDMAN 2 Aug 1821.

ABNER's parents were unknown as late as the 1960s, as there is no record of his birth. He is now believed to be the eldest son of Joseph Wolcott of New Haven, Connecicut.

Abner purchased 150 acres of land at New Haven, Vermont from his father-in-law in 1775. He was a Loyalist, and in 1776, after an armed band of Rebels had seized his neighbor, Justus Sherwood, Abner gathered up Sherwood's papers and took them to the British in Canada. He used his wagon and oxen to haul provisions for the British army under Gen. Burgoyne. His estate was declared forfeited to the State of Vermont on 15 August 1777. Eli Roberts was authorized to take into custody and sell all Abner's moveable effects "except what humanity requires for the support of said Wolcott's family", and to seize and rent out his real estate. An inventory of his possessions included 150 acres of land, 65L in cash. 4 oxen, 6 cows, 7 sheep, 11 pigs, and clothing and personal effects with a total value of 335L.

In November 1777, Abner was taken prisoner by the Colonial forces and confined for a year. While in prison, he was apparently recruited by the Americans. A memo in the Vermont Revolutionary Rolls, Vol. I, p. 785, for 14 Jan. 1778, says: "Capt. Annis directed to employ Abner Wolcott in service of Continent."

In Nov. 1778, Abner escaped to Canada, where his family joined him. His name appears on a list of Loyalists who were provided food by the British government in 1781, with the notation that he was not a member of a military unit, but was employed by the army engineers. In 1783 he was living at Sorel, Quebec, located 30 miles north of Montreal on the St. Lawrence River. In 1787 he had settled at or near St. Sulpice, about ten miles north of Montreal, on the north bank of the river. His sons, John and Solomon, were married at St. Sulpice in 1803, but his other children were all married at Vercheres, on the opposite side of the river. There are several islands in the river near this location, and they may have lived on one of these.

In 1799, Abner sold 100 acres of land at Leeds Co., Canada, which he had received from his father-in-law, Charles Griffin. Abner and his son, John, were both awarded 200 acres of land in Barford Co., Quebec, and took the Oath of Allegiance to the Crown in 1803. Andrew's name is spelled Woolcott on most Canadian documents, but many of his descendants used the spelling of Willcott or Wilcott.

Andrew wrote a will which he voided, drawing up another will leaving 4,000L to his grandson, Andrew, and some property to his second wife. This was probably, Andre Jr. of Keesville, in whose home he died.

He married (1) Mary WHEELER in Dover, Dutchess Co., New York. She was born 1755 in Amenia, Dutchess Co., New York.

They had 5 children:

+ 6063. m i. Thomas WOLCOTT, born 14 Jul 1774, died 7 Jan 1830.
+ 6064. m ii. Luke WOLCOTT, Jr., born 1776, died Nov 1864.
+ 6065. m iii. Wheeler WOLCOTT, born 5 Jun 1779, died 25 Nov 1866.
6066. f iv. Thankful WOLCOTT, born 1781 in Dover, Dutchess Co., New York. She married Mr. PAGE. Thankful died 1841.
6067. f v. Jerusha WOLCOTT, born 1783 in Dover, Dutchess Co., New York. She married Mr. WELLS. Jerusha died 1843.

LYDIA, wife of Luke Wolcott, is engraved on a stone in the Valley View Cemetery at Dover. Lydia is a descendant of Francis Cook who came to New England on the "Mayflower" in 1620.

Luke married (3) Jerusha BAILEY 15 Dec 1785 in Sharon, Litchfield Co., Connecticut. She was born 23 Jan 1760 in Lebanon, New London Co., Connecticut. She was the daughter of Joseph BAILEY. Jerusha died 1792 in Montgomery Co., New York.

JERUSHA was a member of the First Baptist Church at Dover in 1790, and was a charter member of the Second Baptist Church there in 1794.

LUKE was a farmer in Pawling Township. He took over his father's farm, and was administrator of his father's estate. Luke paid taxes on land in Amenia Township in 1774. On 17 Oct. 1775, the 3rd Regt., Pawling Precinct milita was commissioned as a unit in the 3rd Regt., New York militia. Capt. John Van Dusen was commanding officer, Valentine Wheeler was 1st Lt., and Luke Wolcott was 2nd Lt. On 12 June 1777, Lt. Wolcott was absent on leave from Fort Constitution. On 10 March 1778,, Lt. Luke Wolcott was 1st Lt. with Capt. Valentine Wheeler's Co., 5th Dutchess County militia.

In 1786, Luke applied for a patent on lands he had settled in "The Oblong", a strip of land between Pawling Precinct and the Connecticut border. His father's property had been in the Oblong. In 1788 and 1790 he was living in Pawling Township, which then included land that had been part of the Oblong. That part of Pawling Township became Dover Township in 1807. The 1790 census shows that he was the owner of a slave.

Mary Wheeler is said to have been his first wife, but as he married Lydia Conant when he was 18, that is questionable. Luke's will, dated 1812, mentions his wife, Jerusha, and his children, Luke, Thomas, Thankful Page, and Jerusha Wells. It makes no mention of Wheeler, who was living at the time.

He also surveyed the towns of Canfield and Bristol, for which the Connecticut Land Co. gave him 350 acres of land as payment. He erected the first building in Bristol Township.

His marriage to Mary Gilson in 1800 was the first marriage in the county, but the ceremony was actually performed in Pennsylvania as there was no minister in Mahoning County. Mary must have died soon after their marriage, for by 1806 he had bought half of Boston Township in Summit (then Portage) County, and had gone there to clear the ground for his farm, and to build a log house for his new bride, Margaret Craig Wolcott.

Alfred was elected Justice of the Peace in the first election, and also serving as a fence-viewer. His old record book containing all cases that came to him as Justice was in the possession of his great-grandson, Oliver Wolcott, of Copley, Ohio. The Wolcott's daughter Malinda was the first white child born in Boston Township. In 1816 a log schoolhouse was built in the Wolcott neighborhood, and he was the first schoolmaster. It is said that there was a tiny school near his home in which he taught as early as 1812.

Alfred served in the War of 1812. His will left his land, about 119 acres, to his wife, Margaret, with the exception of a half acre left as a burial ground for the township of Boston, now called the Fairview Cemetery.

GEORGE's father died when he was 15, leaving him in charge of the family farm at Tallmadge Ohio. In 1828, he went to Wadsworth, Ohio, where he purchased 100 acres of land at four dollars per acre, and began clearing it and building a log cabin. He bought half interest in a sawmill in 1832, and engaged in the manufacture of fanning mills.

George moved to La Grange Co., Indiana, in 1837, and built a log cabin on the Elkhart River. Here he built a sawmill and gristmill, adding a store and a frame barn in 1839. The town was called Wolcott's Mills, but in 1848 the name was changed to Wolcottville. In 1845 he built a larger gristmill, bringing the machinery by wagon from Ann Arbor, Michigan, a distance of one hundred and sixty-five miles. In 1847 he built a larger store, putting into it a full stock of goods and conducting seven different branches of business; milling, sawing, coopering, blacksmithing, mercantile,and potash production. George also had a large farm. He requested the National Educational Society to send a teacher as governess for his family. The next year he built a school building that he named the Wolcottville Young Ladies Seminary. Later young men were admitted as well. Soon after this he built a boarding house with rooms for the students. The money used in these enterprises was from his own resources.

CHAPTER 7

Listing the descendants of John WOLCOTT
(- Jul 1638)

GENERATION NO. 1

6931. John[1] WOLCOTT was christened 13 May 1599 in Axbridge, Somersetshire, England. He was the son of Edward WOLCOTT and Mary PHIPPEN. John died Jul 1638 in Watertown, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Mary WRENTMORE 18 Jan 1621 in St. John's Church, Glastonbury, Somerset, England. She was born about 1600 in Glastonbury, Somerset, England. Mary died about 1630 in Somerset, England.

They had 3 children:

6932. f i. Elizabeth WOLCOTT, christened 31 Mar 1622 in St. John's Church, Glastonbury, Somersetshire, England. She married David OFFLEY 26 Sep 1639 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.

DAVID is usually said to be "of Boston", but he was living at Plymouth, Massachusetts in 1643, and was the proprietor of a "homestall" at Watertown in 1644.

ELIZABETH either came to America with her father in 1635, or joined him shortly thereafter. In 1638, Elizabeth and her sister, Mary, petitioned to have their uncles, Richard Vayle of Glaston, yeoman, and Christopher Atkins of Glaston, mercer, named as overseers of their land at Glaston, until they came of age or married. This property had apparently been entailed to the heirs of their father and his first wife. A note in the margin of this document reads: "write to Henry Wolcott of Winsor in New England at M. George Searle, mercer, in Tanton, and Edward Woolcott of Axbridge in Somerset, mercer, they to be made guardians."

6933. f ii. Mary WOLCOTT, christened 17 Feb 1624 in St. John's Church, Glastonbury, Somersetshire, England.

MARY either came to America with her father in 1635, or joined him shortly thereafter. There is no record of her ever marrying.

6934. f iii. Martha WOLCOTT, christened 18 Sep 1628 in Axbridge, Somersetshire, England, died Sep 1628 in Axbridge, Somersetshire, England, and was buried 25 Sep 1628 in Axbridge, Somersetshire, England.

John married (2) Winifred LONGMAN 1635. She was born about 1610 in England.

They had 2 children:

+ 6935. m iv. John WOLCOTT, Jr., born about 1635, died 30 Sep 1690.
+ 6936. f v. Sarah WOLCOTT, born about 1637, died 18 Mar 1676.

Winifred also married (1) John CRAWFORD 2 Feb 1629 in London, Middlesex, England. John died 12 Aug 1634 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.

JOHN drowned in the Charles River.

Winifred also married (3) Thomas ALLYN before 1646. He was born 25 Dec 1597 in Braunton, Devonshire, England. He was the son of Richard ALLYN and Margaret WYATT. Thomas died 16 Oct 1679 in Barnstable, Barnstable Co., Massachusetts.

THOMAS' will was dated 28 February 1765 and proved 5 March 1780. It leaves bequests to his children, Samuel, John, and Mehitable Annabel, his grandson, Thomas, son of Samuel, and his "daughter-in-law, Sarah, William Clarke's wife, Martha, Benjamin's wife, and his daughter-in-law, Rebecca, wife of Samuel Sprague." The "daughters-in-laws" were Winnifred's children.

WINNIFRED immigrated to Watertown with her first husband in 1633. He died that year, and she married John Wolcott, who died in 1638. Winifred Woolcott was granted 6 acres of land in the town plot at Watertown in 1638, and in 1642 was granted additional land. She was called Winifred Wolcott in 1642, but was married to Thomas Allyn by 1646. Thomas and Winnifred Allyn sold land at Watertown in 1655. She is not mentioned in Thomas Allyn's will of 1675, so probably died before him.

JOHN arrived in America in 1634. He was admitted a freeman of Cambridge, Massachusetts, in March 1635. The part of that township where he lived became Watertown in 1635. Shortly after his arrival he married Winnifred Longman Crawford, a widow with two daughters.

It was probably this John who sold to William Lord in 1635 a house and land at Salem, Massachusetts. John had purchased the property from Mrs. Higginson of Charlestown. This house had been the home of the Baptist leader, Roger Williams, who was exiled from the Massachusetts Colony in 1634 and went on to found the colony of Rhode Island.

John died at Watertown about 1638. He died owing a debt of 388L to Edmund White of London, which he may have borrowed for the purpose of land speculation in America. His widow repaid the debt in 1641 by deeding to White several pieces of property at Watertown totaling 160 acres, and 10 cattle and 4 pigs. His land in England was inherited by the daughters of his first marriage.

6944.	f	viii.	Lydia WOLCOTT, born 15 Jan 1673 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died before 1690.
+ 6945.	f	ix.	Hannah WOLCOTT, born 18 Apr 1679, died 27 Aug 1745.

MARY immigrated to America with her family shortly before 1643. The family moved from Rowley, Massachusetts, to Newbury in 1651.

JOHN's parents are uncertain. He is placed here as a child of John and Winnifred Wolcott of Watertown, as they seem the most likely. John was born about 1634, as he gave his age as "about 30" in a court case in 1664. John of Watertown married Winnifred about that time. The younger John owned property at Watertown when he died, and his daughter, Sarah, moved to Watertown in 1678. It is possibility, however, that he was a son of William and Alice Walcott of Salem. Alice's sister, Bathsheba, married John Knight of Newbury about 1647, and her mother married John's father about the same time. John of Newbury used the Wolcott and Woolcott spellings exclusively, so it seems more likely that he was a child of John Wolcott.

The earliest mention of the younger John is in May, 1653, when he and his future father-in-law, Richard Thurlay, voted against the establishment of a free school at Newbury. That November he married at Newbury. Newbury was settled largely by people from Watertown. John signed a petition at Newbury in 1654, protesting the disenfranchisement and fine of Robert Pike for encouraging objections to a law restricting who could preach. John Wolcott and seven other men refused to retract their complaints and were fined.

In 1659, John was one of several petitioners from Newbury who received a grant of land on the Saco River near Wells, Maine. In that year, John of Newbury contracted with Thomas Kimball to buy a house and 200 acres on the Saco River near Wells. He was sued for half the purchase price in 1662. It is uncertain whether he lived there, but a John Wolcott was a witness to a Wells deed in 1660.

John and Mary Willcot of Newbury deeded one half of a farm at Newbury to Nicholas Wallington in 1661. Nicholas claimed that the land was not delivered to him. In 1662, John was owner of a homestead of 100 acres at Newbury, bounded by what is today Boston and Hanover Streets, the North Green, and the Little River. In that year he was fined for sitting in the front pew at the Newbury meetinghouse, apparently because it had been placed in front of his pew.

John was a carpenter. He may have learned the trade from his father-in-law, who was also a carpenter. In 1661, a new bridge was to be built and John received a sub-contract to build it. The contractors claimed his work was inadequate and several legal proceedings resulted before he was paid. John contracted to purchase 300 acres at Rowley, Massachusetts, from Phillip Nelson, with half to be paid by building a house and barn by 1663. He sold half of it in 1661, and built the house and barn, but was charged in 1667 with poor workmanship. He also contracted to build a sawmill in Maine in 1664. John built a windmill at Marblehead that was the subject of legal suits in which John and his son, John, testified in 1679. John was involved in several other legal suits regarding payment for his work and underpayment of his workers.

John served as Deputy Constable at Newbury in 1668. In 1668, there was a heated dispute over a boundary line in which John was accused of stealing a document and apparently was branded for this. In 1671 he was involved in an attempt to remove the Newbury pastor. He and his wife, Mary, purchased a meadow at Haverhill in 1673 that he sold in 1674. He bought additional land at Newbury in 1675 that he sold to Joseph Atkinson in 1682, but Atkinson charged John and Joseph Wolcott with stealing wood from the property. In 1683 he owned 54 sheep, pastured at Newbury. In 1687 he sold his 50-acre homestead and 30 acres of common land at Newbury, retaining two freehold lots.

John then moved to Brookfield, where his son, John, had settled the previous year. There he obtained 40 acres adjoining his son, John's land, and 20 acres adjoining the land of his son, Joseph. The house he built at "Woolcott's Corner" was one of the first in what is now North Brookfield. His will dated 1690 leaves 15L each to his daughter's Mary and Sarah; 30L to his daughter, Elizabeth; two pieces of land at Newbury, his farm at Watertown, and land at Brookfield to be divided between his two sons. He also left a slave named James to his wife for her life and then to be freed. Administration was granted to his widow, Mary, and his sons, John and Joseph. The estate was valued at over 700L. The family quarreled over distribution of the estate and the court assigned sole distribution to Mary.

William died 24 Mar 1697 in Plymouth, Plymouth Co., Massachusetts, and was buried in Burial Hill Cemetery, Plymouth, Massachusetts.

They had 1 child:

+ 6946. m i. Thomas CLARK, born about 1670, died 6 Jun 1717.

William also married (2) Hannah GRISWELL 7 Mar 1677 in Saybrook, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 1659. Hannah died 21 Feb 1688 in Plymouth, Plymouth Co., Massachusetts.

William also married (3) Abiah WILDER 3 Aug 1692 in Plymouth, Plymouth Co., Massachusetts. She was born 1656. Abiah died 22 Nov 1725 in Middleborough, Plymouth Co., Massachusetts.

One son, Thomas, was left for dead, but survived.

Thomas also married (2) Sarah EMERSON 5 Jun 1687 in Watertown, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 15 Mar 1659 in Ipswich, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Nathaniel EMERSON and Sarah. Sarah died 10 Mar 1717 in Rehoboth, Massachusetts.

THOMAS served in Capt. Joseph Sill's Co. in King Phillip's War. He moved from Newbury, Massachusetts, to Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1678.

6940. John[3] WOOLCOTT, III (John, Jr.[2], John[1]) was born 25 Oct 1660 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Mary about 1677.

They had 1 child:

6954.	m	i.	Jonathan WOOLCOTT, born about 1678 in Marblehead, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died after 1734.

JONATHAN appears to be the person named in 1734 when Jabez Crocker drew land at Amhurst, Hillsboro Co., New Hampshire, based on a claim of Jonathan Walcott for his father, John Walcott's, military service in 1675-7. There is no other record of Jonathan, but this John was the only one known to have had military service during these years.

John, III married (2) Joanna EMERSON 4 Jan 1684 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 1663 in Ipswich, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Nathaniel EMERSON and Sarah. Joanna died 4 Jul 1751 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

They had 7 children:

+ 6955.	f	ii.	Joanna WOOLCOTT, born 22 Jan 1687, died 4 Jul 1751.
6956.	f	iii.	Ruth WOOLCOTT, born 1690 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts, died 11 Apr 1723.
+ 6957.	m	iv.	John WOOLCOTT, III, born 1696, died 17 Apr 1728.
+ 6958.	f	v.	Sarah WOOLCOTT, born 1698.
+ 6959.	m	vi.	Capt. Nathaniel WOOLCOTT, born about 1700, died Nov 1771.
+ 6960.	f	vii.	Lydia WOOLCOTT, born 1703, died about 1750.
+ 6961.	f	viii.	Hannah WOOLCOTT, born 1712, died May 1794.

JOANNA was a great granddaughter of William Brewster who came to New England on the "Mayflower" in 1620.

JOHN of Newbury served under Capt. Appleton of Newbury, whose unit participated in the New Hope Campaign of 1675 to protect the settlements along the Connecticut River from Indian attacks. John would have been 15 at the time. The town of Marblehead paid the family of John Woolcott 4L 10s in 1675, he being absent on military duty. John also served under Capt. Prescott in the Naragansett Conflict of 1676. John Welcot is listed on a military roster of February 1676, and John Wilcott of Newbury on a roster of August 1676. The last services seems to have been involuntary, as a warrant was issued in August 1676 to the constable of Marblehead, authorizing the impressment of six men, including John Woolcott, into military service. In 1734, Jabex Crocker drew land at Amhurst, Hillsborough Co., New Hampshire, on the claim of Jonathan Walcott, based on military service of his father, John Walcott during 1675-7. Jabez was John's nephew, living at the time in Lebanon, Grafton Co., New Hampshire.

If this is the same John, he was probably the John Wilcott who, with Mary his wife, gave depositions at Marblehead in 1676, giving their ages as 24 and 18 respectively, although he was only 16. John took the Oath of Allegiance at Marblehead in 1678. It seems to have been the same person, because John gave testimony in 1679 concerning a windmill built at Marblehead by his father, John Woolcott of Newbury.

In 1687, John settled at Brookfield, Massachusetts, being one of the first settlers to come there after the community had been destroyed by the Indians under King Phillip. He commanded the garrison at Brookfield. His father and brother, Joseph, also moved to Brookfield in 1688. The younger John was a miller, and operated both a gristmill and a sawmill at Brookfield. The house he built and lived in was still standing in the last half of the 19th century. John transferred most of his property to his son, Nathaniel, in 1747.

6941. Joseph[3] WOLCOTT (John, Jr.[2], John[1]) was born 2 Feb 1663 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Joseph died 1710 in North Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Rebecca GRANGER 4 Mar 1686 in Suffield, Hartford Co., Connecticut. She was born in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Lancelot GRANGER and Joan ADAMS. Rebecca died 27 Jul 1693 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts.

They had 3 children:

6962. f i. Joanna WOLCOTT, born 13 Sep 1687 in Suffield, Hartford Co., Connecticut, died in childhood 27 Jul 1693 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts.

+ 6963. m ii. Joseph WOLCOTT, Jr., born 30 Aug 1689, died about 1735.

6964. f iii. Hannah WOLCOTT, born 8 Nov 1691 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts, died in infancy 27 Jul 1693 in Brookfield, Worcester Co., Massachusetts.

REBECCA and her 3 children were killed in an Indian assault of Brookfield, Massachusetts 27 July 1693.

Joseph married (2) Bethia JOHNSON about 1694 in Cambridge, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 20 Jan 1660 in Woburn, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of John JOHNSON.

They had 2 children:

6965. f iv. Rebecca WOLCOTT, born about 1694. She married David JONES. Rebecca died after 1728 in Oyster Bay, Nassau Co., New York.

6966. f v. Sarah WOLCOTT, born 1696, died after 1728 in Newtown, Queens Co., New York.

Bethia also married (1) Jonathan KNIGHT.

JOSEPH settled at Brookfield, Massachusetts. In 1687 he was granted 3 additional acres of meadow adjoining his property, making a total of 15 acres of home lot and 30 acres more on the south side of the road. A brook is given as being the boundary between his land and that of his brother, John. In 1670 he quarreled over the disposition of his father's estate to such extent that he was fined by the court. In 1692 his home was totally destroyed by fire.

A letter of Maj. Pynchon, dated 29 July 1693 from Springfield, Massachusetts states "On the evening of the 27th inst. John Lawrence from Brookfield came to me with tidings of mischief done there. The account he gave me was that about noon on the 27th of July, Joseph Woolcott came from his own house which was 3 or 4 miles to the garrison house with one of his children in his arms crying 'Arm ! Arm!' and said he doubted his wife and other children were killed by the Indians. He seeing 2 or 3 Indians after her so snatched up that child and came away himself being shot after and pursued, only turned into a swamp and hid from them." Joseph Wolcott's wife and daughters were found dead.

JOHN is mentioned in Rev. He did return to Brookfield, Massachusetts, however, where he married. "Some years afterward, viz. in March 1728, in a time of peace, he and another man having been on a hunting expedition and coming down the Connecticut River with a freight of skins and fur they were hailed by some Indians, but not being willing to go to them, they steered for the other shore. The Indians landed a little distance from them, several shots were exchanged, and at length Wolcott was killed."

CHAPTER 13

Listing the descendants of William WALCOTT
(about 1620 -)

GENERATION NO. 1

7663. William[1] WALCOTT was born about 1620 in Stokeinteignhead, Devon, England. He was the son of John WALCOTT and Dunes. William died in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Alice INGERSOLL about 1637 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born Dec 1612 in Sandy, Bedford, England. She was the daughter of Richard INGERSOLL and Ann LANGLEY. Alice died in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

They had 4 children:

7664. f i. Alice WALCOTT, born about 1637 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She married Francis BENNETT about 1650. He was born about 1623. Francis died 4 Dec 1655 in Noodles Island, Massachusetts.

FRANCIS was killed by Indians. Alice married Ralph HUTCHINSON 8 Aug 1656 in Boston, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Alice died 10 Jan 1714 in Northampton, Hampshire Co., Massachusetts.

ALICE, widow of Francis Bennett, who married Ralph Hutchinson, is sometimes said to have been the daughter of Alice and William Walcott. There appears to be no evidence indicating whether she actually was a Walcott or not.

+ 7665. m ii. Capt. Jonathan WALCOTT, born about 1639, died 16 Dec 1699.

+ 7666. m iii. Abraham WALCOTT, born about 1641.

7667. f iv. Elizabeth WALCOTT, born about 1643 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

ELIZABETH Walkutt testified in an assault case at Salem in 1657. This is the only record of her, so she may have died young. Her birth date is unknown.

ALICE came to America with her parents on the ship, "Mayflower", which arrived 29 June 1629. She is mentioned in her father's will of 1644 to receive "my house at town with 10 acres upland & meadow after my wife's decease."

William married (2) Mrs. _____ WILCOTT about 1643.

They had 4 children:

7668. m v. Thomas WILCOTT, born about 1643. He married Hannah. Hannah died 4 Sep 1683 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.

THOMAS has not been proven to be a son of William, but is placed here because he was a mariner like William, shipping out of Boston. Thomas Wilcot, age about 30, is named in a deposition of 1672 as a mariner on a decked shallop with Christopher Smith as master, carrying on a fur trade with the Indians. In Aug 1671, when the shallop was en route from St. Johns, Nova Scotia to Boston, the ship was damaged in a storm, after which, it was charged, Smith intentionally destroyed the ship near Winskeage Island. Part of the cargo was left with Thomas Wilcott at the Eastward. Thomas was apparently second in command. In another court case of July 1675, Wharton v. Elson, Thomas Wilkott, mariner, age about 35, testified that he was boatswain of the ship, "Blessing", trading between Boston, the French West Indies, and France. It is possible that Mrs. Hannah Woolcott, widow, who died 4 September 1683 at Boston, was his widow.

+ 7669. m vi. William WILCOTT, Jr., born about 1645, died about 1700.

7670. m vii. Samuel WILCOTT, died, and was buried 18 May 1667 in Haverhill, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

SAMUEL has not been proven to be a son of William. The burial of Samuel Wilcott at Haverhill, Massachusetts, in 1667 is the only known record of Wolcotts at Haverhill.

+ 7671. m viii. Hugh WILCOTT, born about 1650, died 1691.

WILLIAM arrived in America in 1636, probably as a crew member of a ship. He seems to have married at that time. Although he would have been little more than 16, he was granted 30 acres of land at Jeffrey's Creek, near Salem, Massachusetts. He went back to England, possibly to avoid charges of jumping ship, and returned to Massachusetts in 1638.

William apparently did not fit in well with the Puritans of Salem. He was one of several residents of Salem, including Roger Williams, censured by the Salem church in a letter to the church at Dorchester dated 1639: "William Walcott for refusing to bring his child to the ordinance, neglecting willingly family duties, etc." He may have been a follower of Roger Williams, who objected to infant baptism. In 1640, William is recorded as holding land at Salem for four persons. William Walcott was ordered whipped for idleness November 1641, and again in January of 1642 by the Essex Co. Quarterly Court. He and others were fined for keeping their cattle on the commons in October 1642. In 1643 the Essex Co. Court ordered: "Willia. Walcotts wife children and estate committed to Richard Inkersell hs father in law 27:10:1643 to be disposed of according to God and the said Wm. Walcott to bee & remaine as his servant." In May 1644, William Walcott's "fine was remitted at the request of his father Inkersoll."

In 1644 a law was passed requiring that any person objecting to infant baptism was to be banished. William left Salem about this time, and apparently returned to sea, leaving his family with his wife's parents. He may have married again, as several mariners with the name of Wilcott were born shortly after 1645. In 1651, a William Walcott was a shoals witness in Maine, testifying on navigational matters. In 1652, Salem records show "means were taken by the court to preserve his estate." This probably included the sale of his land because in that year Robert Goodsell of Salem purchased 30 acres at Salem that had been granted to William Walcott.

The births of his children were not recorded at Salem, probably because they were not baptized. They surely included Jonathan Walcott, born c.1638, Abraham Walcott, born c.1640, and Elizabeth Walcott, born c.1642, all who later lived at Salem. Others, possibly by another wife, may have been his children as well, although this has not been proven. These are: Thomas Wilcott, born c. 1643, William Wilcott, born c.1645, Samuel Wilcott, d.1667, and Hugh Wilcott, born c.1650. This speculation is based on the fact that William, the father, was a mariner and was in Maine; Abraham Walcott of Salem and the younger William Wilcott were both in Sheepscott, Maine; and Thomas Wilcott, the younger William, and Hugh Wilcott were all mariners. There is no other known person likely to have been their father.

CHAPTER 14

GENERATION NO. 2

7665. Capt. Jonathan[2] WALCOTT (William[1]) was born about 1639 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Jonathan died 16 Dec 1699 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Mary SIBLEY 26 Jan 1664 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 8 Sep 1644 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of John SIBLEY and Rachel LEACH. Mary died 28 Dec 1683 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

They had 6 children:

+	7672.	m	i.	John WALCOTT, born 7 Dec 1666, died 12 Mar 1738.
	7673.	f	ii.	Hannah WALCOTT, born 6 Oct 1667 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died 1699.
+	7674.	m	iii.	Jonathan WALCOTT, Jr., born 1 Sep 1670, died 25 May 1745.
	7675.	m	iv.	Joseph WALCOTT, born 25 Jul 1673 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died in infancy 30 Jun 1674 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
+	7676.	f	v.	Mary WALCOTT, born 5 Jul 1675.
+	7677.	m	vi.	Samuel WALCOTT, born 12 Oct 1678, died about 1728.

Jonathan married (2) Deliverance PUTNAM 23 Apr 1685 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 5 Sep 1656 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Thomas PUTNAM and Ann HOLYOKE. Deliverance died about 1723.

They had 7 children:

+	7678.	f	vii.	Anna WALCOTT, born 27 Jan 1685, died before 1736.
	7679.	m	viii.	Thomas WALCOTT, born 25 Mar 1688 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died in infancy 5 Jun 1688 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
	7680.	m	ix.	Thomas WALCOTT, born 5 Jun 1689 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
+	7681.	m	x.	William WALCOTT, born 27 Jan 1691, died 13 Nov 1777.
+	7682.	m	xi.	Ebenezer WALCOTT, born 19 Apr 1693.
+	7683.	m	xii.	Capt. Benjamin WALCOTT, born 23 Apr 1695, died about 1745.
+	7684.	f	xiii.	Prudence WALCOTT, born 10 Jul 1699.

JONATHAN's birth at Salem was not recorded, but in 1662 he gave testimony in a legal dispute about something he had witnessed at Lynn, Massachusetts, giving his age as 22; in 1675 he gave testimony in another dispute, giving his age as 35, and in 1678 he gave his age as about 39. Jonathan served in the Salem Village militia, under his father-in-law, Lt. Thomas Putnam. In 1669 he obtained land at Salem Village, later named Danvers, from his grandfather, Richard Ingersoll, on which he built a home. He later testified that he had assisted in running a boundary line there in 1670.

Jonathan's house was next to the parsonage, occupied by Rev. Parrish, whose daughter started the Salem witchcraft frenzy. Jonathan's daughter, Mary, was one of the "afflicted girls", and he and his son, John, were witnesses at the trials. Jonathan was employed by the town to construct fortifications for the town in 1678. He apparently also built a bridge at Newbury, for Jonathan Walcott of Salem was to receive 20L from the tolls from that bridge. In 1678 he bought land at Topsfield, but he apparently stayed in Salem Village, for in 1679 he was tithingman of the Salem Village church. In 1680, Sgt. Jonathan Walcott was made a deacon of the Salem Village church, and in 1681 he was Constable. In 1686 he was promoted to Lieutenant in the militia, and in 1689 he was commissioned Captain. His trade was that of wheelwright in 1687 and 1691. In 1690 Jonathan was a freeman of Salem Village. Jonathan's will mentions his wife, Deliverance, sons John, Jonathan, Samuel, Thomas, William, Ebenezer, Benjamin, and daughters, Anna, Hannah, and Mary.

7666. Abraham[2] WALCOTT (William[1]) was born about 1641 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Abraham died in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married (1) Ruth HOOPER 22 Nov 1682 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 15 Apr 1653. She was the daughter of William HOOPER and Ruth. Ruth died 21 Nov 1688 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

Abraham married (2) Abigail BRIGGS 30 Apr 1689 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

They had 3 children:

7685. f i. Abigail WALCOTT, born 13 Feb 1690 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
7686. m ii. Nathaniel WALCOTT, born 11 Feb 1693 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
7687. m iii. William WALCOTT, born 1693 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

ABIGAIL's surname may have been Bright. She was admitted into membership in the Salem Village church in 1691 as "wife of brother Abe Walcott."

ABRAHAM witnessed a deed of Jane Tarr of Salem in 1656, and another by Thomas and Jane Parker at Boston in 1658. Another account says he was 37 years old when he married in 1682. Abraham witnessed a deed of land by Indians to Walter Phillips at Sheepscott, Maine in 1663. In 1678, Abraham Walcott, husbandman, purchased 8 acres and an unfinished house at Salem Village for 25L from Joseph Foster, which he and his wife sold to Samiel Goodell in 1696. He was admitted as freeman of Salem Village in 1690. In 1696 he signed a mortgage to Samuel Goodall on a house and 32 acres of land at Salem Village, next to his nephew, John Walcott, with John Walcott as a witness. He was living at Salem during the famous witchcraft trials, but did not participate in them.

- - - - - - - - - - -

7669. William[2] WILCOTT, Jr. (William[1]) was born about 1645. William, Jr. died about 1700 in Sheepscott, Kittery Co., Maine. He married _____ MERCER. She was the daughter of Thomas MERCER and Edith.

They had 1 child:

+ 7688. m i. William WILCOTT, III, born about 1680.

WILLIAM has not been proven to be a son of William of Salem, but his date of birth makes it likely, possibly by a second wife. The younger William lived at Sheepscott, Maine, where a deed for purchase of land from the Indians by Walter Phillips, witnessed by Abraham Walcott, was recorded in 1663. Abraham was undoubtedly the son of the elder William.

The younger William and his in-laws, the Mercers, were among those forced to leave Sheepscott, Maine, in October 1676 due to hostile Indians. William Walcott took the Oath of Allegiance at Boston in 1678, and William Willcott appears on a tax roll at Boston in 1681. In 1682, William Willcutt attended a meeting in Boston for the formation of an association to resettle Sheepscott. In 1688, John Tucker of Newbury petitioned to settle on 150 acres of Drapers River, at New Dartmouth (Sheepscott), with a 2 acre home lot adjacent to the Wilcotts. William Willcutt was living at Sheepscott in 1689. William Willcott signed his mark as the only witness to a deposition given in Boston in 1689 by Thomas Gent, who testified that during a march along the Kennebeck River, in Maine, he met Gen. Andros and told him that his men were in no condition to go after Indians, and was told that Andros would have somone go after them if Gent would identify them. William was apparently with Gent. The following year, giving his age as 45, William Wilcott, late of New Dartmouth (Sheepscott), testified at Boston against a Lt. Jordan, charged with treason and cruelty against the residents of Eastern.

An undated document reads: "Widow Wilcott claims a tract of land on ye West side Sheepscott River...which land was in ye possion of Thomas Mercer & given to Wm. Wilcott deced. and in his lifetime improved and enjoyed several years until ye warrs...."

7671. Hugh[2] WILCOTT (William[1]) was born about 1650. Hugh died 1691 in Barbados, West Indies, and was buried 17 Jun 1691 in St. Michaels Cathederal, Bridgetown, Barbados. He married Dorcas PENLEY about 1680 in Falmouth, Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Sampson PENLEY and Rachael. Dorcas died 1722 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.

They had 4 children:

7689. f i. Esther WILCOTT, born about 1682 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She married Thomas ANDREWS 31 Aug 1703 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.
+ 7690. f ii. Dorcas WILCOTT, born about 1684.
7691. f iii. Elizabeth WILCOTT, born 1688 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She married Anthony REED 5 Oct 1708 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts. Elizabeth married William HALL 17 Jul 1711 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts. Elizabeth married James PRIGNAL 4 Apr 1715 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.
+ 7692. m iv. Philip WILLCUTT, born about 1690, died 1771.

DORCAS' will says she lived at Boston, and mentions her daughters, Dorcas Ballard, Elizabeth Pringle, and grandsons

HUGH has not been proven to be a son of William. He is placed here because he lived in Salem, and was a mariner, like William. In 1679, Hugh Wilcott sued Joshua Ward, of Salem, master of the ship, "John & Elizabeth", for 6 months wages. In 1684, Hugh Walcott was taxed at Salem for a family of 4 persons. Hugh Wilcott was also taxed at Salem in 1685 and in 1692. He died in the West Indies, apparently on a sea voyage.

CHAPTER 15

GENERATION NO. 3

7672. John[3] WALCOTT (Jonathan[2], William[1]) was born 7 Dec 1666 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. John died 12 Mar 1738. He married (1) Mary about 1690 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born about 1670.

They had 9 children:

+ 7693.	f	i.	Elizabeth WALCOTT, born 20 Jun 1693.

John married (2) Elizabeth PERKINS 29 Oct 1717 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of William PERKINS.

JOHN apparently served in the militia under his father. He again volunteered his services for military service in 1690, where it was recorded "under the leadership of John Walcutt son of Capt. Jonathan Walcutt of Salem Village, who finding much difficultie for his father to procure men on such a soddine, he with two stout young men more of the village voluntaire supplied. This Walcutt having searved as sergtt already against the enemie, would have him encouraged according to his merritt, believe he may be at least a Sergt." John was a farmer and a carpenter. He was a witness in 1696 to a mortgage for his uncle, Abraham Walcott, on land adjacent to John's land at Salem. His will mentioned his sons, Jabez and Jonathan, and daughters, Elizabeth, Jerusha Elliot, Mary Brackenberry, Mehitable, and Experience. He left an estate valued at 730L.

7674. Jonathan[3] WALCOTT, Jr. (Jonathan[2], William[1]) was born 1 Sep 1670 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Jonathan, Jr. died 25 May 1745 in Windham, Windham Co., Connecticut. He married Priscilla BAILEY about 1694 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was born 31 Dec 1676 in Newbury, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She was the daughter of Joseph BAILEY and Priscilla PUTNAM. Priscilla died 16 Feb 1770 in Windham, Windham Co., Connecticut.

They had 11 children:

+ 7703.	f	ii.	Sarah WALCOTT, born about 1698.
+ 7704.	f	iii.	Priscilla WALCOTT, born about 1700.

+ 7707.	m	vi.	Stephen WALCOTT, born 27 Jul 1712.
+ 7708.	f	vii.	Hannah WALCOTT, born 24 Feb 1715.
+ 7709.	f	viii.	Rachel WALCOTT, born 1718.
7710.	f	ix.	Miriam WALCOTT, Twin, born 31 Aug 1718 in Boxford, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
7711.	f	x.	Anna WALCOTT, Twin, born 31 Aug 1718 in Boxford, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
7712.	m	xi.	Samuel WALCOTT, born 16 Nov 1721 in Boxford, Essex Co., Massachusetts, died before 1745. SAMUEL was admitted as a member of the Windham church in 1741.

JONATHAN was a farmer at Salem until 1713 when he moved to Boxford, Massachusetts. In 1623 he moved from there to Windham, Connecticut, where he owned 60 acres. His will mentions his wife, Mary, sons Joseph, Jonathan, and Stephen, and daughters, Mary, Sarah French, Priscilla Spofford, Rachel Bingham, and Hannah.

- - - - - - - - - - -

7676. Mary[3] WALCOTT (Jonathan[2], William[1]) was born 5 Jul 1675 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. She married Isaac FARRAR 29 Apr 1696 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He was born 1 Jul 1671 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He was the son of John FARRAR.

They had 7 children:

7713. f i. Mary FARRAR, born 6 Dec 1699 in Salem, Essex Co., Massachusetts.
7714. m ii. Isaac FARRAR, Jr., born 2 Apr 1702.
7715. m iii. John FARRAR, born 7 Jan 1704.
7716. m iv. Jacob FARRAR, born 11 Jun 1705.
7717. f v. Anne FARRAR, born 13 Aug 1707.
7718. m vi. Jonathan FARRAR, born 28 Apr 1709.
7719. f vii. Joanna FARRAR, born 17 Mar 1711.

ISAAC was a soldier in the French and Indians Wars in 1689. He and Mary moved to Ashford, Connecticut about 1713.

MARY was involved in the Salem witchcraft trials of 1692. She was one of the "afflicted girls" who claimed to have been "bewitched". Her cousin, Ann Putnam, also took a prominent part in the witchcraft delusion. She is sometimes said to have been the Mary Walcott who married David Harwood on 15 January 1701 at Salem. The Farrar and Harwood children's birth dates overlap, however, and the Farrar children carry names found in Mary's family, while the Harwood children do not.

- - - - - - - - - - -

7677. Samuel[3] WALCOTT (Jonathan[2], William[1]) was born 12 Oct 1678 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Samuel died about 1728. He married (1) Katherine SCHURER in New Jersey.

Katherine also married (1) Erock SHEERER.

Samuel married (2) Caterina JANSEN 18 Aug 1720 in Penns Neck, Salem Co., New Jersey.

They had 1 child:

7720. f i. Mary WALCOTT, born about 1722.
MARY was living in Salem, West New Jersey, in 1735, with Samuel Abbott as her guardian in 1735. She was unmarried and living in Salem, New Jersey, in 1742, when she deeded to Andrew Sinnickson of Penn's Neck the land her father had obtained from Stephen Cornelius.

Caterina also married (2) Erick JOHNSON. He was the son of Matthias JOHNSON.

SAMUEL was a tailor. In 1700 he sold one acre and a house "given me by my father Walcutt upon his will", and moved to West New Jersey. He was deeded a house at Chestnut Neck, New Jersey by Stephen Cornelius in 1725. His will left 290L and his property to his daughter Mary.

7678. Anna[3] WALCOTT (Jonathan[2], William[1]) was born 27 Jan 1685 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. Anna died before 1736. She married Joshua FELT 15 Jan 1713 in Salem Village, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He was born about 1685 in Casco Bay, Cumberland Co., Maine. He was the son of Moses FELT and Hannah MAINS. Joshua died about 1746 in Boston, Essex Co., Massachusetts.

They had 4 children:

7721. m i. Moses FELT, born 22 Dec 1714 in Boston, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married Mary PETTE 5 Jun 1748 in Dedham, Massachusetts. She was born 1726 in Dedham, Norfolk Co., Massachusetts. Mary died 8 Feb 1805 in Andover, Windsor Co., Vermont. Moses died 13 Jun 1780 in At Sea.
MOSES moved from Dedham, Massachusetts to Needham, Massachusetts about 1760.

7722. m ii. Aaron FELT, born 21 Jan 1715 in Boston, Essex Co., Massachusetts. He married Mercy WAITE 25 Dec 1739 in Lynn, Massachusetts. 7913. m iii. Thomas WALCOTT, born 1758 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts, died 5 Jun 1840 in Boston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts.

THOMAS lived with his mother at Hanover, New Hampshire, during his childhood. He passed the Dartmouth College entrance exam in 1774 at the age of 16. Soon after he walked 90 miles to Crown Point, and then continued on to the Indian village of St. Francis, near Montreal. His mother wanted him to become a missionary to the Indians. At the outbreak of the American Revolution, he joined a privateer for 3 months, and then joined the regiment of his uncle, Col. Thomas Marshall. He enlisted for three years, and served as clerk and steward at the military hospital at Albany, New York and at Barton Point Hospital at Boston. Thomas Walcutt of Boston was in Capt. King's Company, Col. Marshall's Regiment, 1 January 1780 to 10 April 1780, having enlisted for the duration of the war. He is listed as a steward on the hospital roster in Pennsylvania from 1 Jan. 1782 until his final discharge in 30 August 1782. In 1830 he was residing in Boston. A pension of $350 a year was granted him in 1831 as hospital steward, Suffolk Co., age 75. He is said to have been engaged to a Quaker girl whose death left him emotionally unstable. He had a fine collection of books that he gave to Dartmouth and Baudoin Colleges. He was one of the organizers and first Recording Secretary of the Massachusetts Historical Society, which has many of his papers. He put all of his funds into the Ohio Company and visited Ohio in 1789. In 1838 the funds he had invested in this enterprise were lost through unpaid taxes. 7742. Samuel[4] WILCOTT (William, III[3], William, Jr.[2], William[1]) was born 28 Mar 1708. Samuel died 29 Jun 1773 in Shoreham, Addison Co., Vermont. He married Mary "Mercy" FOSDICK 27 May 1725 in Charlestown, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts. She was born 28 Mar 1707 in New London, New London Co., Connecticut. She was the daughter of Samuel FOSDICK, Jr. and Susannah TURNER.

They had 6 children:

+ 7916. m i. Samuel WOLCOTT, born 28 May 1727, died 1809.

7917. f ii. Mary "Mercy" WOLCOTT, born 1728, died.
+ 7918. m iii. Capt. William WOLCOTT, born 16 Aug 1730.
7919. f iv. Hephzibah WOLCOTT, born about 1736 in Charleston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts, died.
7920. f v. Hephzibah WOLCOTT, born about 1738 in Charleston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts. She married (1) Aaron TOWNSEND. Hephzibah married (2) H. MUNGER.
7921. f vi. Mary "Mercy" WOLCOTT, born about 1742 in Charleston, Suffolk Co., Massachusetts. She married Mr. GIBSON.

MERCY was a descendant of William Brewster, who came to New England on the "Mayflower" in 1620. In 1727, two years after her marriage, Mercy "renewed the Covenant", that is to say she took vows to be in full communion with the church. In her father's will dated 1767, he stated that his daughters, Mercy and Susannah would receive nothing because his wife had given them all his moveable goods in his absence. In 1773 and 1775, Mercy, widow of Samuel Willcott, was living at Charlestown. When the British were repulsed by the colonists at Bunker Hill and retreated from Boston in 1775, Charleston was burned and the residents took refuge elsewhere in the area. In an accounting dated March 1776, Mercy Wilcott is shown as having had a 200L loss due to the destruction of her hame and possessions. Mercy died intestate. In the distribution of he estate, her daughter, Hepzibah Munger received $16, her daughter, Mercy Gibson, $20; her grandsons Jesse and Philemon, sons of her son, Samuel, received a total of $60.

SAMUEL has not been proven a son of William. The tentative relationship is based on their both being mariners, both using the Wilcott spelling, and both being at Boston, Massachusetts. William was born at or near Boston, acknowledged a deed there in 1743, and Samuel was "of Boston" when he married in 1725. Samuel Wolcott of Boston married Mercy Fosdick of Charlestown in 1725, and raised their children at Charleston. Samuel is found on the Charleston tax rolls in 1729, 1730, 1732, 1736, and 1737. In a court case dated 1732, Robert Ball of Charlestown, mariner, charged Samuel Wilcot of Charlestown, mariner, with not repaying three loans totalling 3L 11s. Bond was posted by Wolcutt of Charlestowm, sailmaker. Witnesses tetified that Ball was master of the sloop, "Medford", and that Samuel Wilcot was taken prisoner by the sheriff, and that Ball paid money to keep him from going to jail. Samuel "promised to come to work on board the said sloop to proceed on a voyage in the said sloop...the said Samuel Willcot came two or three pieces of days and in that space of time went from the said vessel several times as if he did not incline to work and then wholly absented himself." The court found for the plaintiff and Samuel was required to pay 33s and court costs. Samuels descendants usually spelled their name Wolcott.

MARCY, Benjamin's widow applied for pension 3 February 1837 in Cayuga County, New York.

BENJAMIN served in the Revolutionary War as a 2nd Lt. in Capt. Reuben Ballou's Co., Col. Tallman's Regt., from 12 December 1776 to May 1777 at which time he was promoted to 1st Lt. He served in the Continental Army from Feb. 1778 to Mar. 1779, and was at the taking of Bristol. After the war he was in the militia as 1st Lt. of the Smithfield and Cumberland Rangers. He was Captain of that unit from 1791 to 1796. His widow applied for a military pension in 1837 at Cayuga Co., New York, for which her son, James, gave an affadavit, mentioning his brothers, Edward, residing at Auburn, New York, and William.

In 1781, Benjamin bought 14 acres of land from his father. He purchased 2/3 interest in a fulling mill at Robin's Hollow, near Cumberland, Rhode Island, in 1797. He converted the mill into a cotton yarn mill, and later enlarged it for the making of cloth. The mill also had a small foundry and Benjamin is said to have invented a nail-making machine there. These nails were stamped with his personal mark. He converted the mill into a cotton yarn mill, and later enlarged it for the manufacture of cloth.

Benjamin joined with others to start the Yellow Mill at Pawtucket, Rhode Island, in 1805. In 1808, in partnership with Dr. Seth Cooper, he contracted to build a dam on the Sauquoit Creek in Oneida Co., New York. There he erected a three-story factory, two dwellings, and a blacksmith shop. They named this enterprise the Oneida Manufacturing Society. In 1810 the business was organized as a legal entity, capitalized at $200,000, with 16 stockholders, including his son, Benjamin, Jr. Benjamin, Sr., returned to Rhode Island in 1810, leaving his son, Benjamin, as supervisor of the Oneida mill.

Benjamin and others started the Stone Mill at Pawtucket in 1813. He was part owner of a new bank at Pawtucket in 1814, and owner of a scooner, "Little Duck", out of Providence in 1815. In 1816, he sold his interest in the two Pawtucket mills, and assisted his brother, Otis, in the operation of machine shops at Pawtucket. He later lived at Seakonk.

His will dated 1824 left his wife two houses for life and the interest from $2,000 of bank stock, and various sums of money to his sons, James, Benjamin, William, Edward, his daughters, Phila Benedict and Mary Pitcher, and the children of his daughter, Nancy Whipple. The balance of the estate was divided between his children, but excluded his son, Esek, who was then living in Mississippi. This may have been because Esek was a slave owner.

SAMUEL is said to have settled at Goshen, Connecticut, about 1753. He moved to Shoreham, Vermont, in 1773. Apple trees he planted in 1774 became a nursery, furnishing fruit and trees to the neighborhood. He and his son, Samuel, were part of Ethan Allen's "Green Mountain Boys", who captured Fort Ticonderoga in 1775. Elijah Kellogg of Shoreham was also a member of "The Green Mountain Boys". Samuel's grandson married Elijah's daughter. Ft. Ticonderoga is located across the Poultney River from Shoreham. The fort was occupied by the British army, but the soldiers stationed there were unaware of the war beginning, and the Americans were able to easily walk in and gain control of the fort. The Wolcott family moved for safety to Cheshire, Massachusetts during the war, and then returned to Shoreham.

An account of the early residents of Shoreham, written by Rev. Josiah Goodhue in 1861 says of him: "In the fall of 1773, Samuel Wolcott from Goshen, Connecticut, settled with his family on the farm now owned and occupied by Deacon Almon Wolcott. He and his son, Samuel, were with Ethan Allen's party at the capture of the fort. Becoming alarmed by a party of Indians that appeared in the vicinity, he and his family fled to Berkshire County, Massachusetts, where they remained until 1783. Then they returned to the farm they had left. He died while on a visit to friends in Massachusetts."

Samuel died of smallpox while visiting his son, Moses, at Cheshire. In a deed dated 1804, "Jese Wallcutt, Alven Wolcott, & Philemon Wallcutt of Shoreham Vermont, heirs of Samuel Wollcut of said Shoreham deceased, son of Mercy Wallcut formerly of Charlestown, widow, decst.", sold the family property at Charlestown.

BENJAMIN came with his father to Oneida Co., New York, about 1808. There, in partnership with Samuel Campbell, his father built cotton yarn mills, making his son the superintendent. The company was legally organized in 1810, with Benjamin, Jr., as one of the 16 stockholders.

In 1813, he and his father-in-law, George Doolittle, purchased a nearby flourmill, and converted it to a spinning mill. The enterprise was called the Whitestown Cotton and Woolen Manufacturing Society. In 1817, he sent William Copely to a Rhode Island mill to surreptitiously copy their power loom. They then built the first power loom in the state of New York. The enterprise was first called Oneida Manufacturing, but in 1840 they began using the name New York Mills.

Benjamin also erected a mill for manufacturing sheeting material, in partnership with Benjamin Marshall of New York City. This factory was called Marshall & Walcott. In 1839, Marshall sold his interest in the factory to Benjamin. In 1843, ownership was vested in Benjamin, his sons, William and Charles, and Samuel Campbell. These enterprises at New York Mills, in which Benjamin was the major partner, employed hundreds of workers. The area became the village of New York Mills.

During the Civil War Benjamin gave a river steamer to the government. Benjamin built the first school house at New York Mills. He was one of the original trustees of the Welsh Salem Congregational Church in 1847. He endowed a chair in Christian Morals at Hamilton College, and in his will left funds for building a Presbyterian church at New York Mills. The family provided $10,000 for the Walcott Memorial Presbyterian Church, which was completed in 1881.

He came to the Western Reserve of Ohio in 1806 as a member of the Fire Lands Survey Team. In 1809 he built a log cabin for his family on Sandusky Bay. They moved to Newburg, Ohio during the War of 1812, where his wife died and his eldest daughter married. He and his children returned to his home in 1814 and found it the only building standing in the area. He applied for and received a military pension in 1818. Benajah was an accomplished violinist and played for many social gatherings in the area.

Benajah was appointed the first lighthouse keeper at the Marblehead lighthouse in 1822, and served for 10 years. He had a stone house nearby. It was called the Old Stone Fort because it had 28 inch thick stone walls and musket portals, and was designed that way in case of battles with the Indians. The house is now owned by the Ottawa Co. Historical Society. Benajah is buried behind the home with members of his family.

RACHEL was a Sandusky school teacher at the time she married. She was appointed keeper of the Marblehead Lighthouse, on 25 Oct 1832 by the U.S. Treasury Department, after the death of Benajah.

CHAPTER 19

Listing the descendants of John WOLCOTT
(about 1630 - about 1669)

GENERATION NO. 1

9213. John[1] WOLCOTT was born about 1630 in England. John died about 1669 in Kent Co., Maryland. He married Sarah about 1655.

They had 2 children:

9214. m i. Henry WOLCOTT, born about 1650. He married Sarah LEWIS 1669 in Talbot Co., Maryland.

HENRY's only record is his marriage in 1669. Whether he or John Wolcott, presumably his brother, were the ancestor of later Wolcotts at Talbot Co. is uncertain.

+ 9215. m ii. John WOLCOTT, M.D., born about 1660.

Sarah also married (2) Mr. THOMAS about 1672.

JOHN arrived in Maryland in 1649. In 1667, a patent was issued to John Woolcott, of Kent Co., Maryland, surgeon, for 40 acres of land, part of a warrant for 350 acres previously granted him. The patent was called Wolcotts Addition, and was located near the head of Beaver Neck Creek adjoining the land of William Stemsley.

At a Kent Co. Assize Court hearing of 1667-8, John and Gertrude Anderson complained that "John Woollcott unjustly and without judgment hath deceized the said Gartrude of her freehold called Beavers Neck within thirety years now last past...." John replied that the 100 acres of land was granted to John Salter in 1658 and was bequeathed to his wife Jane Salter, who conveyed it to William Hensley, surgeon, who conveyed it to John Woollcott. A subsequent hearing in Dec. 1668 declared John Woollcott the lawful owner of the land. This is probably the same land that appears on a 1767 survey of Maryland manors as "Woolcote, 200 acres, cut off by the Divisional Line".

The will of John Woolcott of Kent Co., dated 13 March 1669, left his estate to his wife, Sarah, with Thomas Taylor, Peter Sharpe, and William Bevery as overseers. A document dated 1677 reads: "the said Woolcot in his lifetime made his Last Will & Testament in writing and constituted her the said Widow Thomas his late wife exix only of the said testament and in his will had appointed his orphans their respective parts & shares of his land, that the deceased personal estate is...very inconsiderable, that for the preservation of the said orphans right to the land a commission is by her earnestly desired...." The will was re-recorded in Talbot Co. in 1713.

John's parents are unknown. There were five John Wolcotts known to have been born in Devon between 1615 and 1630, three of whom might be he: John, son of Richard Wolcot and Joan Archer, bapt. at Ilsington 23 Aug. 1616; John, son of John Wolcott and Alice Jordan, bapt at Hennock 22 Dec. 1622; and John, son of Henry Wolcott and Hannah Withcomb, bapt. at Ilsington 4 Apr. 1624.

CHAPTER 20

GENERATION NO. 2

9215. John[2] WOLCOTT, M.D. (John[1]) was born about 1660 in Kent Co., Maryland. His spouse has not been identified.

They had 1 child:

+ 9216. m i. James WOLCOTT, born about 1690, died 1752.

JOHN is almost certainly the son of John, the immigrant, due to dates, geographical proximity, and the fact that they were both surgeons. John Wolcott, MD, was given 700 pounds of tobacco for attending and dressing 32 prisoners as a surgeon in 1684.

CHAPTER 21

GENERATION NO. 3

9216. James[3] WOLCOTT (John, M.D.[2], John[1]) was born about 1690 in Maryland. James died 1752 in Maryland. He married Ann.

They had 4 children:

9217. f i. Ann WOLCOTT. She married Mr. ADAMS.

ANN Adams is named as aunt of Matthias Woolcott in his will dated 1780.
She was guardian of her niece, Ann Wolcott.

+ 9218. m ii. James WOLCOTT, Jr., born 26 Apr 1727.

+ 9219. m iii. Matthias WOLCOTT, born about 1730.

+ 9220. m iv. Joseph WOLCOTT, born about 1733.

ANN is just a guess. Her son, Matthias, gave his daughter, Ann, silver buckles with AW on them.

JAMES was probably either the son of John, or the son of Henry Wolcott, assumed to have been John's brother. James inheirited the estate of Joseph Dowdle of Talbot Co. MD in 1739. James' wife, Ann, was probably either the daughter of Joseph Dowdle, or of John Dowdle who married Catherine Butler in 1697 at St. Peters Parish, Talbot County. In 1751, James Woolcott subscribed 10s for the charity school for orphans in St. Peters Parish.

CHAPTER 22

GENERATION NO. 4

She was born about 1719 in Talbot Co., Maryland. She was the daughter of Dennis HOPKINS, Jr. and Elizabeth.

They had 4 children:

+ 9221. m i. John WOLCOTT, born about 1755.
9222. f ii. Elizabeth WOLCOTT, born about 1760 in Maryland. She married John CECIL 1781 in Talbot Co., Maryland. He was born about 1760 in Talbot Co., Maryland.

Widow Wilcutt and Caleb, William, and Leven Wilcutt appear on the census of Mispillion, Kent Co., Delaware in 1790, after Reuben had moved from Delaware to West Virginia. This family is tentatively placed here as relatives of the Maryland Wolcotts only because of geographic proximity. This familiy's surname was spelled Wilcott, Willcutt, Wolcott or Walcott, but later generations used the Wolcott spelling.

CHAPTER 27

Listing the descendants of Samuel WOLCOTT
(1630 - 1687)

GENERATION NO. 1

9330. Samuel[1] WOLCOTT was born 1630 in Plymouth, Devonshire, England. He was the son of Samuel WOLCOTT and Charity BAKE. Samuel died 1687 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., New Jersey. His spouse has not been identified.

They had 3 children:

+ 9331. m i. Peter WOLCOTT, born about 1665, died 6 Jun 1690.
+ 9332. m ii. Edward WILLIAMS, born about 1665, died about 1702. Adopted.
9333. m iii. Nathaniel WOLCOTT, born about 1672, died 1691 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., New Jersey.

NATHANIEL is said, in his father's will dated 1687, to be then apprenticed to Joseph Grover. He must have been in his teens at that time, therefore born about 1672. In 1690, Nathaniel Woollcott of Shrewsbury, carpenter, sold to Edward Williams for 14 pounds "one half part of a share of land...which formerly did belong unto Samuel Woollcott, deceased...now in possession of Edward Williams." Nathaniel died in 1691 intestate, and letters of administration on his estate were granted to Edward Williams of Shrewsbury. Nathaniel would have been under 21 years old when he died, and there is no record of him ever marrying. Wolcotts previously thought to be his descendants appear to be descendants of Peter Wolcott of Burlington.

SAMUEL arrived in America in 1660, "bound to John Templeton, mariner, to serve for 4 years." This means that he came as an indentured servant, agreeing to work for four years in return for his passage. This service would have ended in 1664. An early record of New Jersey land surveys includes: "Samuel Woolcott, 240 acres & meadow on Mch 30, 1677, in Shrewsbury." Samuel's surname is spelled Wolcott, Woolcott, Wilcott, and Willcot, on various Shrewsbury land records. His land was bounded East by land belonging to Stephen Williams, North by the Neversinks River, West by unsurveyed lands, and South by land belonging to Col. Morris. He also owned 4 acres of meadow on Raccoon Island. He paid quit rents on 100 acres at Shrewsbury in 1681 and 1688. His 160 acre Shrewsbury land patent was re-recorded in 1688.

Samuel's will, dated 7 May 1687, and proved 1 Dec. 1687, leaves "unto my sons Edward Williams & Nathaniel Wollcutt all my lands that I have to be equally devided between them, one half to my sone Williams & ye other to my sone Nanthaniell provided the affore said Nathaniell Wollcutt doe allow & pay to ye affore said Edward Williams the one halfe of all his disbursement, charges & sums of money he hath laid outt for me & for ye land I have as may be evedently made appear.... He also requested that his executors, Judah Allen and Thomas Webley "take care that me son Nathaniell be no wise wronged by his master Joseph Grover...."

CHAPTER 28

GENERATION NO. 2

9331. Peter[2] WOLCOTT (Samuel[1]) was born about 1665 in New Jersey. Peter died 6 Jun 1690 in Burlington, Burlington Co., New Jersey. He married Joan. She was born about 1665. Joan died 1720 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., New Jersey.

They had 3 children:

9334. m i. Benjamin WOLCOTT, born 20 Mar 1687 in Burlington, Burlington Co., New Jersey.

BENJAMIN's birth as son of Peter and Joan Woolcott was recorded in the records of the Burlington Friends Society. He requested exemption from military service for being a Quaker in 1708. He may have been the ancestor of later New Jersey Wolcotts, formerly said to be descendants of Nathaniel's son, Henry, of whom no record has been found.

9335. m ii. Peter WOLCOTT, born 1689 in Burlington, Burlington Co., New Jersey, died in infancy 3 Jun 1689 in Burlington, Burlington Co., New Jersey.

PETER's birth and death were recorded by the Burlington Friends Society.

+ 9336. m iii. Henry WOLCOTT, born 1690, died 1750.

Joan also married (2) William WORTH 3 Jul 1695 in Burlington, Burlington Co., New Jersey. He was born about 1655 in New Jersey. William died 21 Nov 1710 in Shrewsbury, New Jersey.

WILLIAM was a Quaker, His children's births were recorded at the Shrewsbury Friends Society meeting house. The will of William Worth, yeoman of Shrewsbury, dated 1710, stated that he left his property at Shrewsbury and 100 acres of upland at Passequenockque to his son, Edward Worth, with the request that Edward entertain members of the Friends when they come to attend the annual meeting. To his wife, Joan, he left his dwelling house, 14 barrels of cider yearly, a horse, a cow, and six sheep, to be maintained by Edward, fire wood to be provided by Edward, and household furnishings, during her widowhood. The residue of his estate was to be divided among his children, and Edward to pay his sisters, Winnifred and Patience five pounds each. To Sarah Lawrence's children he left five pounds. He left 30 shillings for the poor Friends of the Shrewsbury Meeting. His son, Edward Worth, and his son-in-law, Joseph Lawrence, were named executors.

JOAN lived at Burlington following the death of her husband, Peter Wolcott. She witnessed the births of Elinore Lane and Mary Lane there in 1691 and 1693. The marriage of Joan Woolcott of Burlington and William Worth of East New Jersey is recorded by the Burlington Friends Society in 1695. William had at least seven children by his two previous marriages. The couple lived at Shrewsbury until their deaths.

PETER has not been proven a son of Samuel, and there has been no record found of any relationship. Peter was a little older than Samuel's son, Nathaniel, and their geographic proximity makes it seem likely they were related. Peter appears to have been the ancestor of Wolcotts formerly said to have been descendants of Nathaniel. Peter was a Quaker, as were many later New Jersey Wolcotts. There is no evidence that Samuel or Nathaniel were Quakers, so it is possible that Peter was disowned for becoming a Quaker. Records of the Burlington Friends Society for 1685 show: "Peter Woolcott is willing to make graves and to look at ye fences of ye burying ground...." In 1686 the Burlington Friends appointed Thomas Budd and others to care for Peter Wolcott and his wife, "being poor". His death in 1690 is recorded in the records of the Burlington Friends Society.

9332. Edward[2] WILLIAMS (Samuel[1]) was born about 1665. He was the adopted son of Samuel WOLCOTT. Edward died about 1702 in Gloucester Co., New Jersey. He married Mary about 1697. She was born about 1675. Mary died about 1738.

They had 3 children:

9337. m i. William WILLIAMS, born about 1698.
9338. m ii. Nathaniel WILLIAMS, born about 1700.
9339. f iii. Sarah WILLIAMS, born about 1702.

Mary also married (2) Joseph WARE 26 Dec 1704 in Salem Co., New Jersey.

MARY's parents and surname are unknown. It is sometimes thought that she might be the daughter of Samuel Wolcott, but the dates make this very unlikely. She is probably the person named in the will of Sarah Reape of Shrewsbury, dated 1715, which leaves a bequest to Mary Ware, formerly wife of Edward Williams. The will of Joseph Ware dated 1711, mentions his children: Joseph and Patience Ware and William, Nathaniel, and Sarah Williams. David Williams was executor of the will of Mary Ware in 1738.

EDWARD is referred to in the will of Samuel Wolcott as "my son, Edward Williams." Edward may be Samuel's adopted son, a stepson, or a son-in-law. Edward Williams was active in Shrewsbury from 1687 to 1694. In 1694 he purchased land in Gloucester Co., New Jersey and apparently relocated there.

CHAPTER 29

GENERATION NO. 3

9336. Henry[3] WOLCOTT (Peter[2], Samuel[1]) was born 1690 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., New Jersey. Henry died 1750. His spouse has not been identified.

They had 4 children:

9340.	m	i.	Peter WOLCOTT, born 1717 in Shrewsbury, Monmouth Co., New Jersey, died 2 Sep 1752.
+ 9341.	f	ii.	Mary WOLCOTT, born about 1720.
+ 9342.	m	iii.	Benjamin WOLCOTT, born 18 Jul 1724, died 28 Jul 1790.
+ 9343.	f	iv.	Meribah WOLCOTT, born 2 Oct 1728, died 29 Dec 1793.

HENRY has not been found in any records. It is possible that the children credited to him were actually the children of Benjamin Wolcott.
